ANNUAL REPORT OF THE DOG OFFICER

In this past year there have been many dogs reported missing! I have been advised of very few of them from the owners. It would help me in my effort to get owners and pet together if —

1. You would call immediately when finding your dog missing.
2. Call and give breed, tag no. and description of pet.
3. If you find a stray or unfamiliar dog or cat try to get accurate description of pet, in what area, how long it has been there, check with new families in area. Try to be friend the animal.

Pets will be easier to control with affection. Instead of driving them off try to contain them on a chain or rope and call me.

I cannot stress enough the importance of cooperation between neighbors and pet owners with the Dog Officer. If we try to put ourselves in the position of others we can realize how much this cooperation is needed.

I am trying to keep a record of missing dogs. If I can get cooperation.

The list will be kept up to date on dogs found, dogs placed and strays which may be placed with their rightful owners. Strays are any dog that is not licensed or has a collar with no tags on it. The dog is your responsibility and it is the owners who from neglect causes the dog to be put away.

Let me assure you I will do my best to be fair in handling all situations.

Thanks all who have tried to cooperate with me in the past years.

STANDISH RECREATION COMMITTEE

The Baseball-Softball and Summer Recreation Programs continue to be the two largest programs overseen by the Town Recreation Committee. Baseball-Softball participation continues to increase. This past year, there were 282 young people and 33 coaches and assistants involved in a program which consisted of 11 "Little League" teams of 17 players each, 4 girls' Softball teams and 1 Babe Ruth team. An All-Star Little League team went to the regional play-offs and one of our Babe Ruth players was on the regional All-Star team. Plans for next year include addition of an older girls' softball team, another Babe Ruth team and whatever teams may be indicated by increased participation. The policy of the program is that each player plays in every game.

The Summer Recreation Program, under the direction of Jack Wilkinson assisted by Tom Lindsay, had 310 people signing up opening day. Daily attendance averaged about 180 children per day. The nucleus of the counselor staff was made up of young Standish people who made a great contribution to this year's program because of their individual dedication and enthusiasm. The swimming part of the program is conducted at the Kiwanis Beach on Watchic Lake; and the field, arts and crafts, and gym activities at George E. Jack School, the Sebago Lake ballfield area and at Bonny Eagle Junior High athletic fields. A Cumberland-York Recreation League has been formed with surrounding towns, featuring competition in softball, soccer, basketball and tennis. Our teams were the champions in every sport and earned six trophies for the season. The track team competed at South Portland, Westbrook and Biddeford—winning all meets—and came in third in the State meet, bringing home several blue ribbons.

A new feature was added directly to the Summer Rec program this summer and other new activities were peripheral to it. Preschoolers came a half-day, once a week, for a reading and game program at the Steep Falls Library. Walt Disney movies were shown one evening a week for the six weeks of the program. "Fun Runs," which are weekly informal runs open to all ages and abilities, were conducted each Sunday evening at Bonny Eagle High School grounds during the summer and into the early fall. Not completely new, but ever-popular, were some overnight trips to the White Mountain National Forest.

Other activities conducted during 1977 included a continuation of programs such as Men's Basketball, trips by the Senior Citizens, a tennis clinic conducted by a professional instructor, maintenance of snowmobile trails—with increasingly sophisticated equipment—and skating. Attempts to keep skating facilities available in early 1977 was unsuccessful—approaching disaster. During the new season, the family skating rink was in use at the end of the year and a hockey program for Peewees through Junior High and High School had been organized waiting until the vagaries of Maine weather could be overcome to the extent that we could have good ice on the hockey rink.

New programs include a soccer clinic conducted in the fall; a Peewee Basketball—grades 3 to 6—for both boys and girls; and a ten-week skiing program bussing children—ages 6 to 12—to Pleasant Mountain Ski Area in Bridgton for downhill ski lessons. In the summer, the Recreation Committee and Engine No. Three Firemen started weekly Beano games at Steep Falls firehouse. Also two projects were put on with the help of some mini-grants from the State: (1) a series of movies and lectures centering about the history of Maine and Standish Citizens and (2) an evening of music by Wilde Mountain Thyme, a bluegrass band.

During the last seven months of the year, Standish had its first full-time

Recreation Director, Mr. Jack Wilkinson of South Portland. Due to special circumstances connected with a family business, Mr. Wilkinson resigned at the end of the year. We have been very fortunate in having Mr. Tom Lindsay accept a position as part-time director.

A Bureau of Outdoor Recreation official visited us last spring to inspect and give final approval to the tennis courts and skating facilities before closing our matching funds account with the State. The committee is continuing to explore possible sites for additional recreation facilities within the town.

The Standish Recreation Committee has a regular monthly meeting the second Wednesday of each month at 7:00 P.M. at the Municipal Building. The meetings are open to the public; and the committee welcomes any suggestions and/or assistance in carrying on activities. Our special thank-you goes to the Kiwanis Club for use of the swimming facilities and to the individuals who have contributed many hours of their time to make the programs during 1977.

Respectfully submitted,

PAULINE MOULTON,
Chairman

ACCOUNTANTS' REPORT

Board of Selectmen
Town of Standish
Standish, Maine

We have examined the balance sheet and related statements of operations, fund balances and unappropriated surplus of the Town of Standish, Maine, for the year ended December 31, 1977. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

The Town has not maintained a record of its general fixed assets, and accordingly a statement of general fixed assets, required by generally accepted accounting principles, is not included in the financial report.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly the financial position of the Town of Standish, Maine at December 31, 1977, and the results of its operations of the various funds for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

REPORT OF CIVIL EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS DIRECTOR

To the Residents of the Town of Standish:

By being appointed Director of Civil Emergency Preparedness for the town of Standish for the past 12 years has been a good experience for me. I have put a lot of time in training on radios and Civil Emergency problems. All meetings were attended at the emergency center at Standish and at the emergency center at Windham, Maine. At this time I would like to report that all the basic operations plans and annexes have been revised and up to date: The plans are (1) Operations Plan; (2) Direction and Control; (3) Shelter; (4) Increased Readiness; (5) Emergency Communications; (6) Warning; (7) Fire; (8) Police; (9) Natural Disasters; (10) Radiological.

It has been said at times what are the responsibilities of the Civil Emergency Preparedness Director? The mission is to organize and prepare to protect the people and property of the town of Standish; to render mutual aid in conjunction with Cumberland County and the State of Maine. The greatest threat to the people of Standish is radioactive fallout from a Nuclear strike. An atomic attack on the United States would create a need for more than normal day to day needs for more traffic control and fire fighters, first aid.

In this Nuclear age many people are interested in how to build fallout shelters for their own protection. Anyone interested please contact me. I would be glad to help all if I can. The town of Standish has 1 public fallout shelter and many private homes could be used as such. It is the responsibility of the Director to organize and to meet ordinary emergencies as a matter of course. However, in the event of a sudden disaster or other emergency that gets out of control, it is essential that this town's departments utilize their resources, manpower and talents in a coordinated manner to provide the fastest and most effective response to all emergency operations.

I also wish to thank all the Departments for their support this past year and the continued support of the town in the coming year.

Respectfully submitted,

DONALD E. WALTZ,
Director.

1978 DOG OFFICER'S REPORT

NEW * NEW * NEW 642-4343 Dispatch Office to report a dog complaint when you can't reach me at home. I check with them for messages.

I would have to say that the most complaints are on barking dogs.

1. Late hours of the night.
2. Early in the morning.
3. For long periods of time without action from the owner.

I have had many requests that we do something about an ordinance on barking dogs.

Day coverage would have to be the other top complaint, or the lack of it.

As I complete my fourth term as a public servant, with pride and few regrets, as I have been able to be a helpful servant to some wonderful people. It's therefore real sad to look back on the recent shooting. All I have to say is that the dog was not on the owner's property. It started to attack my daughter and I shot it in self defense when it came for me as I interceded. Annette was the only child in sight, and when the owner's boys came down the street they thought it was a neighbor's dog instead of their own. The Town Lawyer now has an affidavit from another person who was attacked twice this past summer by the same dog.

It saddens me that the recent shooting was not prevented. The leash law is designed to protect the walking public. They knew that Party Workers were out in force and there were many other places where the situation was a real risk.

It was difficult to get people to canvass. Due to the dog situation several people refused to help. Now as it turned out several people were nipped or chased back to the safety of their cars.

Some people just will not keep their dogs under control. Some see no need to keep them off public property, business establishments where they could even scare an elderly person into having a "heart attack" or to slip and fall breaking a leg or hip.

It's all becoming a serious and time consuming matter. Complaints are increasing, dog assaults on children, adults jogging and property have been reported. In some cases people have taken the law into their own hands, shooting trespassing dogs!

Keep your dog home and cut your tax bill. Dog Control is costing an average of $134.45 or 21½ hours and 363 miles per month for 1978. See chart No. 1 for a summary of the dogs and cats taken to the pound this year and the dogs I took the first year, 1975. Chart No. 2 of the Baxter Shelter, Westbrook, dogs and cats brought in from Cumberland County and what happened to them.

Born to be killed! Are you guilty? (12,500 per hour in USA). They pour in, a never ceasing, always increasing, inundating flood. Consequently, every day, the pounds and shelters are compelled to kill and kill and kill, in order to make room for the ones that will flood them that day; all the result of thoughtless pet owners.

Maybe, we should consider establishing a local ordinance which would levy fines for loose dogs, which would be directed into town coffers, thereby recovering some of the cost of dog control, from the guilty. State licenses help pay for the animal shelters.

WHY K-9 CONTROL

To Protect the Public

Traffic Hazards—People get very upset when they hit a dog.
 Damage to cars and other property due to animal accidents.
 From dog bites—Does he have Rabies, he runs off, or is stolen or killed by a car or just dies. Now you have a problem, how do you test him, does the bitten person have to take Series of Rabies Shots.

Public's Property—Dog urine kills everything.

Other Dogs—They are territory minded making for fighting.

Molesting Pets—Chasing and killing cats, rabbits or fowl.

To protect the dogs

From traffic—other animals—rabies and other disease—poison or cruelty from an angry public.

To protect the owner

From law suits, medical expenses, disease being brought into the house, from anxiety of not knowing if they're lost or stolen, as they usually only steal unlicensed and uncollared dogs.

Always remember "Rights Have Responsibilities"

Respectfully submitted,
 KENNETH R. BROOKS,
 Constable.

WESTERN MAINE COUNSELING SERVICE ANNUAL REPORT STATEMENT

This past year has been perhaps the most exciting (and exhausting) one since opening our doors in July of 1969. We have undergone many important changes all of which directly affect our organization and you, the people we serve.

We are now a state licensed, non-profit corporation charged by the Department of Mental Health and Corrections to provide your community with a high quality level of mental health care. Our voluntary Board of Directors, representing the 14 towns we serve, have worked very hard to insure that solid professional care is readily available to all people who seek it. In line with this policy, our staff is providing services out in your community, not just in our offices. We've added a Ph.D. psychologist (our clinical director), a part-time consulting psychologist and a psychiatric nurse to our staff. We're now able to provide more services to your schools and can even see you in your home when necessary.

We meet regularly with groups of children in the schools and in churches. We continue to maintain a 24-hour, 7-days-a-week emergency service in addition to our clinical program of individual and group counseling for children and adults, family counseling, marital counseling, and medication therapy. We work closely with your clergy, physicians, school teachers, police and other care-givers, sharing and combining our knowledge and our skills with theirs. Since 1969, we have had over 25,000 client visits made to our service! Our staff has provided another 2250 hours of community consultation and education services.

Financially, we are supported by client fees (based on each person's ability to pay), town appropriations, county appropriations and a grant from the Area V Mental Health Board. It is the combining of resources at all these different levels that makes mental health care economically available to everyone regardless of their income level!

As in the past, our town appropriation request is based on a formula which takes into account size of population, and previous level of appropriation. The formula is applied uniformly to the towns we are responsible for and has enabled us to move toward equalization of town support. Our 1979 appropriation request for your town is $660.00.

We believe that the programs and services offered and available from the Western Maine Counseling Service are vitally important to you and your neighbors. Cooperatively, each person and each community doing their part will insure that these services will continue to be available to all.

Respectfully submitted,

BECKY GILBREATH,

President, Board of Directors.

REPORT FROM THE STANDISH RECREATION COMMITTEE

The year 1978 proved to be a very busy one and by sending out two newsletters, we hope that we have helped you to be more aware of what is going on in the town as far as recreation. We hope you will contact us whenever you have any ideas or suggestions. Our meetings are held the second Wednesday of each month at 7:00 P.M. at the Municipal Building. We would also like to point out; if you have an interest of being on the Recreation Committee, submit your name to the Selectmen and when there is a vacancy, you will be considered for appointment.

We have the addition of an excellent new member, Dean Sawyer, but in the fall, when Pauline Moulton moved, we lost an excellent member.

Our thanks go out to Tom Lindsey, Recreation Director, who had a very successful first year in this position. Thanks, Tom!

Summaries of the 1978 programs are:

WINTER

The year started off with a very successful ski program, thanks to committee member Norma Richardson. The 34 children had a chance to ski at Pleasant Mt., Bridgton, for ten weeks with ski lessons. Fun was had by all and the program will continue as long as there is interest.

The weather conditions did not permit us to use the skating rinks this year but 1979 will hopefully be more accommodating. Basketball programs were held for girls grades 5 and 6 and for boys grades 3-6. Also men's basketball was held two evenings a week.

The gymnastics program for grades 2-6 was a success, so successful, we sponsored another in the fall. Both enrolling over 80 children.

SPRING

The baseball and softball program takes all energy for Spring.

This year we had a very successful season with 320 boys and girls making up 19 teams. In addition to the original teams, we added 1 Babe Ruth team and 2 girl's softball teams for ages 13-15.

Our congratulations go to all winning teams and enormous Thank You's to all the coaches, helpers and umpires that made it a big success.

We have one team in particular that I would like to point out, it is the Little League All-Star team that won the Championship at the Gorham Invitational. There is a trophy in the trophy case at the Municipal Building and a plaque with all names of involved. These boys and coaches did a great job and we should all be very proud.

SUMMER

The summer recreation program was again a success and we have all Standish counselors under the direction of Tom Lindsey to thank for this.

The program consisted of the usual sport activities plus the addition of dramatics. The pre-school program was enjoyed by several little ones. Field trips to Fun Town, Gray Animal Farm, the Children's Museum, Jordan's Beach, the White Mts., and an overnight camping trip at the Otter Ponds Camp were enjoyed by several children. There was a total of 310 enrolled in the program this year.

The Jr. Olympics, an annual event, ended with Standish in second place out of 15 teams. These kids have a great deal to be proud of, because they lost by only 1 point to defending champions, Lewiston.

Tennis lessons were held again and 25 adults participated. Instructor again this year was Rodger Twitchell, Standish. The Fun Runs were continued again this year, these are weekly informal runs at the B.E.H.S. track open to all ages and abilities.

FALL

We had our first soccer league for grades 2-6 and it was a huge success with enrollment of 90 boys and girls. A big hand should be given to Bob Bourget, coach at B.E.H.S., and all his team members who came out to help these kids take part in a sport that is rising in popularity in the country. A local "Hot Shot" contest sponsored by Pepsi-Cola, was held and four local winners went to Boston for the regionals and did a very good job. This is a basketball shooting contest which is held annually around the country.

We had five children take part in the Cross-Country State Championship, with all qualifying in their age group to go to the regionals in New Jersey. Paul Riciputi finished fourth in his age group at the regionals, the others not attending because of previous commitments.

The Senior Citizens group enjoyed several trips to places like Augusta, Brunswick Summer Theatre, Boothbay Harbor, etc.

The Standish Sno-Blazers maintained the several miles of trail within the town that have been made possible by the land owners, and they would like to thank them at this time.

In the area of improvements and development, we are very pleased to say we have made some definite progress. At the Sebago Lake ballfield alone, we have repaired benches, replaced the wooden dugouts with cement ones to lessen repairs, and in the fall grading was done on the field itself. Thanks go out to Mickey Foster for the equipment and time spent to make this possible. The Steep Falls field will be ready for play the '79 season and the Firemen of Engine No. 3 have done a great job on the progress thus far.

We also have made some progress in the addition of two new ballfields in the Watchic Lake area on Rte. No. 25. It is upon recommendation of the Conservation Committee that this parcel of town owned land be used for ballfields, and we have been granted permission from the Planning Board and the Appeals Board for this project. With the growing amount of teams, we feel this is a definite need, and we will be asking for your support at Town Meeting.

We would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks to S.A.D. No. 16 for their support, without this, many of the programs would not have been the success they were. We rely on the district for building facilities and buses. Also, we would like to thank the many volunteers, without them many of the programs just would not have been. Thanks to all and I hope that 1979 is as successful as 1978.

Respectfully submitted,

BRENDA C. WALKER,

Chairman.

REPORT OF CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Board of Selectmen
Town of Standish
Standish, Maine

We have examined the financial statements of the various funds and general long-term debt group of accounts of the Town of Standish for the years ended December 31, 1978 and 1977. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

It is the usual practice in municipalities in the State of Maine, the Town of Standish has not maintained a record of its general fixed assets, and accordingly, a statement of general fixed assets, required by generally accepted accounting principles, is not included in this financial report.

In our opinion, the financial statements listed in the aforementioned schedule of contents present fairly the financial position of the funds of the Town of Standish at December 31, 1978 and 1977 and the results of operations of those funds and general long-term debt group of accounts for the years then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

The accompanying supplemental schedules and related information presented as Schedules 1 through 4 are not necessary for a fair presentation of the financial statements but are presented as additional analytical data. This information has been subjected to the tests and other auditing procedures applied in the examination of the financial statements mentioned above and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

TOWN OF STANDISH, MAINE
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 1978

1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

Fund Accounting:

Governmental accounting is an integral branch of the accounting discipline. It is founded upon the basic concepts and conventions underlying the accounting discipline as a whole and shares many characteristics with commercial accounting. The government environment differs markedly from that of business enterprises, however, and the information needs to be met by governmental accounting systems and reports differ accordingly. A governmental accounting system (a) determine compliance with legal provisions; and (b) determine fairly and fully disclose the financial position and results of financial operations of the constituent funds and account groups of the governmental unit in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

Rather than establishing a single unified set of accounts to record and summarize all financial transactions, the accounts of the Town are organized on the basis of funds and account groups. A fund is defined as an independent financial and accounting entity with a self-balancing set of accounts recording cash and other financial resources, together with all related liabilities and residual assets or balances, and changes therein, which are segregated for the purpose of carrying on specific activities or attaining certain objectives in accordance with special regulations, restrictions, or limitations.

Fiduciary activities of the Town are recorded in the trust funds.

Basis of Accounting:

The accounts of the trust funds are maintained and reported on the accrual basis of accounting. All other funds included in these financial statements are maintained and reported on the modified accrual basis. Under this method revenues are recognized in the accounting period in which they become available objectively measurable. Expenditures are recognized in the accounting period in which they are incurred, if objectively measurable.

Fixed Assets:

Fixed assets are not capitalized in the accounting records when acquired. Funds used to acquire fixed assets are accounted for as expenditures in the period payments are made.

Inventories of Supplies:

Inventories of supplies are considered to be expenditures at the time of purchase and are not included in the general fund balance sheet.

Appropriations for certain projects and specific items not fully expended at the fiscal year end are carried forward as continued appropriations the new fiscal year in which they supplement the appropriations of that year. At the fiscal year end, the continued appropriations are reported as a component of the general fund balance.

NOTE 2 - OVEREXPENDITURES:

During the year, the Town overexpended certain budgeted amounts which will be raised through taxation in 1979, as presented in Exhibit B-2.

WESTERN MAINE COUNSELING SERVICE ANNUAL REPORT

For 10 years, the Western Maine Counseling Service has provided mental health care to the people of your community and the surrounding towns. In ten years, we've listened carefully and sorted through the confusion and worked hard with a great many people. By mid 1980, the number of visits for counseling made by people from our area; your neighbors and friends and perhaps some of your family, will have exceeded 30,000 visits.

In 10 years, we've undergone some important changes; changes that have made our services more effective, more efficient and easier for people to obtain. We can now provide home visits when necessary, do testing and counseling in the schools when requested, and we have added a specialist for alcoholism problems. We plan by the end of 1980 to have developed and begun delivery of much needed mental health services for our elder citizens. We also expect to have two new part-time locations so that less travel and expense will be involved for people using our service.

The Board of Directors, representing our 14 town service area, are working together with our trained professional staff developing an agency which truly reaches out to those people who need our services. Our Board, in an effort to provide a fair financial base of support, has used a formula approach for five years in our requests to your town for financial support. This year's request from your town is $706.

If we continue to pull together, the combined financial efforts of our clients, our townspeople, county government, and the Area V Mental Health Board will insure our area a quality level of mental health care.

We urge your careful consideration of our appropriation request.

Sincerely,

NANCY BUSHELL, President

Board of Directors

JERRY LEVINE, M.S.

Executive Director

Western Maine Counseling Service

Respectfully submitted,
PAUL M. RONEY
Code Enforcement Officer

REPORT OF THE PLANNING BOARD

During the year ending December 31, 1979 the planning board held 12 regular meetings (the first non-holiday Monday of each month), 4 special meetings, 7 public hearings and 3 workshop meetings. The activities of the board included the granting of final or preliminary approval on 6 sub-divisions, 2 of which are in excess of 30 buildable lots; numerous site plan reviews and other zoning applications.

The board undertook a major project of trying to determine the attitudes and desires of the residents toward zoning by the use of a questionnaire. There were 1,650 questionnaires mailed and a return of 533 or 32%. A public hearing was held in December, 1979 to report the results of the returned questionnaire; how the Board was going to interpret the results and to review the articles that are included in this year's warrant.

REPORT OF THE FIRE DEPARTMENT

The Fire Department handled 148 calls this year, of which 6 were Stove fires, 25 Structure, 13 Grass and Brush, 7 Woods, 12 Auto Accidents, 16 Chimney, 13 Electrical, 1 Sylvania Alarm, 8 Smoke, 3 School Alarms, 11 Automobile Fires, 3 Fires at the dump, 28 Miscellaneous, and 2 False Alarms.

This year the Fire Department is asking the Town to replace the 1941 Fire Truck in the Steep Falls Fire Station. We are asking the Town to raise $21,814.68, and the remainder to come from the Obsolete Truck Fund, which is $31,964.32. The pump and motor of this truck are in need of repair, and parts are not available. The Fire Department will be glad to answer any questions you have regarding replacement of this truck.

Respectfully submitted,
JACK REARDON
Standish Fire Chief

ANNUAL REPORT OF ANIMAL CONTROL OFFICER

In the first six months that I have had this job there has been an average of 43 calls per month. The highest month thus far being December with 68 calls.

The average mileage is between 400 & 600 miles per month. The calls range from dogs at large, dog abuse, damage by animals, drop offs, dead animals and dog bites, etc.

My policy for the six months period was to warn, (either written or verbal) any owner of dogs at large or without tags. Most people have been very helpful.

During the 1980 season, there will be many problems arise in the Town of Standish on Animal Control, I will do my best to take care of these problems.

The leash law is a State law that will be enforced.

Respectfully submitted,
ERIC GETCHELL
Special Constable for Animal Control
Animal Control Officer

REPORT OF THE STANDISH RECREATION COMMITTEE

The year 1979 was a very busy one for recreational activities in our town, with many of the activities showing increased numbers of participants and increased interest and involvement of citizens. We again extend an invitation for any citizen to please contact us with ideas, suggestions, or criticisms. The Committee meets the second Wednesday of every month at 7:00 P.M. at the Municipal Building, and all meetings are open to the public.

A special Thank You and best wishes go to Tom Lindsey, our Recreation Director who resigned from his position at the end of August in order to return to college and begin work on an advanced degree at Arizona State University. The Committee, all the Townspeople who got to know him, and especially all the youngsters certainly wish him success.

Late in the fall, after an extensive search and review of a number of applicants for the position, we were fortunate to be able to hire Bob Bourget, coach and Physical Education teacher at B.E.H.S., as our new Recreation Director.

Activities:

As part of a continuing program of development and improvement of recreational facilities, our thanks go to the Firemen of Engine 3 for the work they are continuing on the Steep Falls Field which was used very extensively during the spring. Improvements also continue at the Sebago Lake ballfield with a major cleanup and replacement of the old cedar pole-cable fence with a low chain-link fence to separate the parking lot from the activities area.

The site for the two new ballfields on Route 25 near Watchic Lake has been cleared and activity here in order to bring this area into active recreational use will be high on the list.

Summary of 1979 programs:

WINTER

The ski program held at Mt. Pleasant, Bridgton, for 10 weeks has continued to show increased interest. This year 42 children participated in this very successful program under the direction of Norma Richardson and Art Riley, Jr. All indications are that this program will continue to increase in numbers of participants.

Again this year, weather conditions allowed only limited use of the skating rinks, but indoor programs were very successful. Basketball programs were conducted for girls in grades 5 and 6 and for boys in grades 3-6. Men's basketball was held two nights a week for 14 weeks.

We also initiated a very successful swimming program which was conducted at the pool in Westbrook. This was a 10-week program of Red Cross approved instruction for 47 children that ranged in swimming ability from "beginner" to "advanced swimmer." In addition to the instructional activity, everyone enjoyed the "free-swim" time.

SPRING

The major activity for spring is baseball and softball. Again this year we had 19 teams with over 300 boys and girls participating. One look at the difficulties of scheduling all of these teams makes it easy to see why additional facilities are so badly needed.

To all team members, the coaches and helpers, the umpires, and to the parents — our special Thanks. The popularity of this program is proof of interest, dedication, and lots of hard work.

SUMMER

The summer recreation program this year enrolled 285 children, with a large increase in the number in the younger age groups (ages 7-9). In spite of a very hot, humid six weeks, Tom Lindsey and his Standish Counsellors again had a very successful program.

Trips to Jordan's Beach, Gray Animal Farm, and Fun Town were continued as part of the summer field trip program, with the addition of trips to Portland for roller-skating which proved to be so popular, that weekly trips had to be scheduled. The usual sports activities were also part of the program with competitive events against some of our neighboring communities. The summer program also expanded in the area of arts and crafts.

The Standish Recreation Track Team placed third in the Junior Olympics this year in competition with 14 other teams representing the larger cities and groups of towns in central and western Maine. The continued good showing of our youngsters in this annual event has brought many complimentary comments from the participants, coaches, and parents of other participating teams.

FALL

The soccer clinic for grades 2-6 was conducted again under the capable direction of Bob Bourget and some of his B.E.H.S. players. 94 boys and girls participated this year, and again, we have a program which is gaining in popularity and participation.

This year we had six youngsters participate in the Maine Jr. Olympic Cross-Country Championships held in Maranacook High School in Readfield. All six qualified for the regionals which were held in Grand Island, N.Y., in late November.

The Standish Sno-Blazers continue to maintain the trails that individual land-owners allow to be used, and we found that an increasing number of cross-country skiers are also beginning to take advantage of these.

The Senior Citizens enjoyed several special trips within the state and we are encouraged to keep this program active.

Special thanks to:

- a) M.S.A.D. No. 6 for their continued support in use of building facilities and buses;

- b) citizens and friends who have offered criticism, advice, support and encouragement;
- c) all the beneficiaries and participants of these programs who have made our work so successful.

Respectfully submitted,
 ARTHUR RILEY, JR.
 Chairman

REPORT OF CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Board of Selectmen
Town of Standish
Standish, Maine

We have examined the financial statements of the various funds and general long-term debt group of accounts of the Town of Standish for the years ended December 31, 1979 and 1978. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

As is the usual practice in municipalities in the State of Maine, the Town has not maintained a record of its general fixed assets, and accordingly, a statement of general fixed assets, required by generally accepted accounting principles, is not included in this financial report.

In our opinion, the financial statements listed in the aforementioned table of contents present fairly the financial position of the funds of the Town of Standish at December 31, 1979 and 1978 and the results of operations of those funds and general long-term debt group of accounts for the years then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

The accompanying supplemental schedules and related information presented as Schedules 1 through 4 are not necessary for a fair presentation of the financial statements but are presented as additional analytical data. This information has been subjected to the tests and other auditing procedures applied in the examination of the financial statements mentioned above and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

TOWN OF STANDISH, MAINE
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 1979

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

The accounting policies of the Town conform to generally accepted accounting principles as applicable to governmental units. The following is a summary of the more significant policies.

Fund Accounting:

The accompanying financial statements are organized and operated on a fund basis. A fund is defined as an independent fiscal and accounting entity with a self-balancing set of accounts recording cash and/or other resources together with all related liabilities, obligations, reserves, and equities which are segregated for the purpose of carrying on specific activities or attaining certain objectives in accordance with special regulations, restrictions, or limitations.

Basis of Accounting:

The financial statements of the trust funds are maintained and reported on the accrual basis of accounting. All other funds included in these financial statements are maintained and reported on the modified accrual basis.

Inventories of Supplies:

Inventories of supplies are considered to be expenditures at the time of purchase and are not included in the general fund balance sheet.

Fixed Assets:

Fixed assets are not capitalized in the accounting records when acquired. Funds used to acquire fixed assets are accounted for as expenditures in the year payments are made.

Continued Appropriations:

Appropriations for certain projects and specific items not fully expended at the fiscal year end are carried forward as continued appropriations to the next fiscal year in which they supplement the appropriations of that year. At the fiscal year end, the continued appropriations are reported as a component of the general fund balance.

NOTE 2 - OVEREXPENDITURES:

During the year the Town overexpended certain budgeted accounts, as presented on Exhibit B-3, which will be raised through taxation in 1980.

Art. 58. To see if the town will vote to accept the curfew ordinance as written by the Crime Check Committee.

Curfew Ordinance

In order to reduce juvenile crime, protect the children of this municipality and reinforce parental authority and the authority of the officers of the law, be it enacted by the Town of Standish;

Section I. Curfew for Minors. It shall be unlawful for any person 17 years of age or less to remain, stay behind, tarry, loiter, or to stay unnecessarily in or upon the street or other public places in the Town of Standish at night between 9:30 P.M. and 6:00 A.M.

Section II. Before 9:30 P.M. It shall be unlawful for more than three (3) minors to remain together, stay behind, tarry, loiter, or to stay unnecessarily in or upon the street or other public places in the Town of Standish.

Section III. Exceptions. In the following exceptional cases a minor on a town street or other public place during the hours for which Section I is intended to provide the maximum limits of regulation (and a clear general guide for minors, their parents and their fellow-citizens) shall not, be considered in violation of the Curfew Ordinance:

- (a) When accompanied by a parent of such minor
- (b) When accompanied by an adult authorized by a parent of such minor to take said parent's place in accompanying said minor for a designated period of time and purpose within a specified area;
- (c) When legally employed, for the period from one-half hour before to one-half hour after work, while going directly between his or her home and place of employment.
- (d) When the minor is on an errand as directed by his or her parent. To come under this exception, the minor must be carrying a written statement from his or her parent specifying the destination, the time the minor left home, and a telephone number at which said parent can be reached; however, this exception shall not extend beyond 11:00 P.M.
- (e) When the minor is coming directly home from a meeting or a place of public entertainment, such as a movie, play or sporting event. This exception will apply for one-half hour after the completion of such event, but in no case beyond 12:30 A.M.

Section IV. Police Procedures. A police officer, sheriff or constable who has probable cause to believe that a minor is in violation of this ordinance shall take such minor to the police or sheriff's station where the minor's parents shall be immediately contacted. If after this contact there is still probable cause to believe that the child was violating this ordinance, the child shall be held until the parent comes to take the minor home. When the parent arrives, he or she must be given a copy of this ordinance. If no parent has arrived within two hours, the child shall be turned over to the custody of the juvenile authorities until a parent can take custody of such minor.

In the absence of convincing evidence such as a birth certificate, a police officer, sheriff or constable on the street shall in the first instance use his best judgment in determining age.

Section V. Penalties. It shall be unlawful for any parent to permit or by inefficient control allow a violation of this ordinance by a minor in his or her custody or control. If after notice in writing of a first violation of this ordinance, a parent is found again to be in violation of this ordinance, then parent shall be fined $25.00, and for each subsequent offense by a parent the fine shall be increased by an additional $25.00, e.g. $50.00 for the second, $75.00 for the third.

Section VI. Definitions. For purpose of the Juvenile Curfew Ordinance the following terms, phrases, words and their derivations shall have the meaning given herein. When not inconsistent with the context, words used in the present tense include the future, words in the plural number include the singular and words in the singular number include the plural. The word "shall" is always mandatory and not merely directory.

- (a) "Town" is the town of Standish, Cumberland County, State of Maine.
- (b) "Minor" is any person under the age of 18 years, or, in equivalent phrasing often herein employed, any person 17 or less years of age.
- (c) "Parents" is any person having legal custody of a minor.
 - (i) as a natural or adoptive parent;
 - (ii) as a legal guardian;

- (iii) as a person who stands in loco parentis; or
- (iv) as a person to whom legal custody has been by order of court.

(d) "Remain" means to stay behind, to tarry and to stay unnecessarily upon the streets.

(e) "Street" is a way or place, of whatsoever nature, open to the use of the public as a matter of right for purposes of vehicular travel or in the case of a sidewalk thereof for pedestrian travel. The term streets includes the legal right of way, including but not limited to the cartway or traffic lanes, the curb, the sidewalks whether paved or unpaved, on any grass plots or other grounds found within the legal right of way of a street. The term street applies irrespective of what it be called or formally named, whether alley, avenue, court, road or otherwise.

(f) "Time of Night" referred to herein is based upon the presiding standard of time, whether Eastern Standard Time or Eastern Daylight Savings Time, generally observed at that hour by the public in the town.

(g) "Year of Age" continues from one birthday such as the seventeenth to, (but not including the day of) the next, such as the eighteenth birthday, making it clear that 17 or less years of age is herein treated as equivalent to the phrase "under 18 years of age", the latter phrase in practice, unfortunately, having confused a number of persons into the mistaken thought that 18 year olds might be subject to this ordinance.

(Budget Committee has no recommendation)

Art. 59. To see if the town will vote to increase the building permit fees from 3c per sq. ft. to 6c per sq. ft. for living area, from 1c per sq. ft. to 3c per sq. ft. for non-living areas (garages, out-buildings, unfinished basements);

Alterations over $500.00 from $5.00 to $20.00;

Multiple family dwellings, Industrial and Commercial buildings and accessory outbuildings, First $50,000.00 Valuation from $2.00 per $1,000.00 to First $50,000.00 Valuation $5.00 per $1,000.00;

Over $50,000.00 Valuation from $1.00 per $1,000.00 to Over $50,000.00 Valuation $3.00 per $1,000.00

“Whereas, the Town of Standish has, through its Selectmen entered into a contract with the county commissioners of the County of Cumberland under which the Cumberland County Sheriff’s Department provides patrol services in the Town of Standish in return for payment by the Town for such services; and Whereas the residents of the Town of Standish feel that local facilities should be used for towing and storage of motor vehicles and for any other services needed by the Sheriff’s Department in connection with its patrol services in the Town of Standish; and Whereas the Sheriff’s Department has often called wreckers from outside the Town of Standish for towing of motor vehicles; Therefore be it resolved that the Board of Selectmen of the Town of Standish, in all future contracts for patrol services in the Town of Standish, shall attempt to include in such contracts a requirement that all towing or storage of motor vehicles and all other services needed by the Sheriff’s Department in connection with patrol services in the Town of Standish shall

Standish Board of Assessors

Re: Assessment Standards

Dear Mr. Sawyer:

This correspondence is a result of the recently completed study of your 1979 assessment by our State Valuation field representative.

The sales ratio analysis used seventy-five transfers of developed lots to generate a 59% average ratio. This ratio, of course, is not in compliance with the statutory requirements provided for in Title 36 MRSA, Section 327. Our study also revealed major discrepancies between various classes of property.

Recognizing that a professional revaluation may be the most feasible method of reestablishing equity in assessments, we have enclosed a list of recognized professional revaluation firms, from whom you may wish to obtain bids. We take this opportunity to advise you that, should the municipality fail to initiate an acceptable program to update local assessments, more imperative enforcement action will undoubtedly be forthcoming.

If, for any reason, the municipal officers wish to consult with this office regarding this letter, please contact the undersigned and a conference will be scheduled at your earliest convenience.

Sincerely,

George A. Mayo, Director
Property Tax Division

REPORT OF THE CODE ENFORCEMENT OFFICER

The Code Enforcement Officer has issued 124 plumbing permits, 72 were for external permits, some of which were for malfunctioning septic systems; 48 internal permits, and 4 conversions. 108 building permits were issued, 25 new homes, 25 garages, 1 modular home, 4 trailers, 6 storage sheds, 2 barns, 3 pools, 1 club house, 1 new school, and 40 alterations and/or remodeling.

Since my appointment as Code Enforcement Officer, I have attended 2 regular Planning Board meetings and 4 special meetings which include several public hearings and workshop sessions.

On site inspections were made of most of the request for appeals. In attending to town business the Code Enforcement Officer has traveled 1375.7 miles.

Respectfully submitted,
DAVID R. GRYSKWICZ
Code Enforcement Officer

REPORT OF THE PLANNING BOARD

During the year ending December 31, 1980 the planning board held 12 regular meetings (the first non-holiday Monday of each month) and several special meetings. The activities of the board included many site plan reviews and other zoning applications. This year the board did not review preliminary plans or grant final approval on sub-divisions. The subdivisions that were carried forward to this year without final approval were brought before the board for extensions. The reason cited on all cases was the downswing in the building field and the general economy.

The board spent a major part of its time this year trying to bring together and clear up the many loose ends that have carried forward since enactment of building and zoning regulations of the 1976 and 1977 years. To this end many of the articles in this year's warrant are the result.

REPORT OF THE STANDISH RECREATION COMMITTEE

The Standish Recreation Department continued to expand and improve its services to the people of Standish in 1980. The success of the programs is a direct result of the outstanding support from the citizens of our community.

WINTER

The winter program began with over 110 boys and girls involved in a six week basketball program. Gymnastics experienced a tremendous growth with over 150 children enrolled in programs for K thru 6th grade. Another successful swimming program was completed with 45 children ranging in ability from beginner to advanced swimmer receiving Red Cross instruction at the Westbrook Pool.

Adult physical fitness for women was added with great success as over fifty women participated in the initial program. Skiing again was of large interest but mother nature did not co-operate forcing cancellation of the program due to lack of snow. Skating conditions on the other hand were excellent and the Steep Falls family skating rink received a great deal of use.

The snowmobile clubs while not enjoying much snow last winter have been making new trails, maintaining the existing ones and repairing and replacing bridges.

SPRING

Nineteen teams with over 300 boys and girls participated in softball and baseball during the spring. With expanded schedules over 100 different contests were held during the year. A special thanks to all coaches, umpires, and parents for their dedication and hard work.

SUMMER

The summer recreation program continued to have outstanding enrollment with over 280 children enrolled. The pre-school program held on Mon., Wed. and Fri. had 20 kindergarten and first grade children participating in half day programs. Weekly field trips were held for both roller skating and bowling.

Again this year the track program was excellent with over 40 participants competing at Olympic Development meets once a week throughout Western Maine. Twenty-one qualified for the State Jr. Olympic meet held at Scarborough in August.

FALL

One hundred and eighteen Pee Wee Soccer players (boys and girls) participated in a six week program. The program continued to place emphasis on skill development with games being played each day.

The senior citizens have enjoyed their field trips this year. They have had an opportunity to travel and benefit from the friendship of others.

Special thanks are extended to MSAD #6 for this continued support in use of building facilities, buses and athletic fields.

The Standish Recreation Committee meets the second Wednesday of every month at 7:00 p.m. at the Municipal Building and all meetings are open to the public. Come and help us continue an excellent program.

SACO RIVER CORRIDOR COMMISSION

The Saco River Corridor Commission administers the Saco River Corridor Act which regulates land use within 500 to 1000 feet of the Saco, Ossipee, and Little Ossipee Rivers. The Commission is made up of representatives of the 20 communities bordering the 3 rivers. Each town within the Corridor is represented by one regular member and one alternate member appointed by the Selectmen. The Commission meets once a month, generally on the fourth Wednesday, to consider applications for permits and to discuss other matters which relate to the Saco River Corridor region. Standish's regular Commission member is Karen Z. Atkinson and the alternate member is Georgia Ashley.

One of the Commission's major functions is the consideration of permit applications for construction within the Corridor. During the year January 1, 1980 through December 31, 1980, the Commission considered a total of 46 permit applications. It also considered 22 amendments to permits previously granted and held 2 public hearings. Of the permit applications and amendments considered by the Commission this year, 2 were for construction activities within the Town of Standish.

Any Standish resident interested in obtaining additional information about the Commission or the affect of the Saco River Corridor Act on their land should feel free to contact either of the Standish representatives to the Commission or Margaret Roy, the Executive Director, who may be contacted at the Commission office in Cornish (telephone 625-8123).

Respectfully submitted,
KAREN Z. ATKINSON

REPORT OF CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Board of Selectmen
Town of Standish
Standish, Maine

We have examined the financial statements of the various funds and general long-term debt group of accounts of the Town of Standish for the year ended December 31, 1980, as listed in the foregoing table of contents. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

As is the usual practice of Municipalities in the State of Maine, the Town has not maintained a record of its general fixed assets and, accordingly, a statement of general fixed assets, required by generally accepted accounting principles, is not included in the financial report.

In our opinion, the financial statements listed in the aforementioned table of contents present fairly the financial position of such funds and the general long-term debt group of accounts of the Town of Standish at December 31, 1980, and the results of operations of such funds for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a consistent basis.

The accompanying supplemental schedules and related information presented as Schedules 1 through 6 are not necessary for a fair presentation of the financial statements, but are presented as additional analytical data. This information has been subjected to the tests and other auditing procedures applied in the examination of the financial statements mentioned above and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

TOWN OF STANDISH, MAINE
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 1980

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

The Town of Standish, Maine currently operates under a Town Meeting - Selectmen form of Government.

The accounting policies of the Town conform to generally accepted accounting principles as applicable to state and local governmental units. The following is a summary of the more significant policies.

Basis of Presentation:

The accounts of the Town are organized on the basis of funds and accounting groups, each of which is considered a separate accounting entity. The operations of each fund are accounted for by providing a separate set of self-balancing accounts which comprise its assets, liabilities, fund equities, revenues and expenditures. The various funds, which are segregated for the purpose of carrying on specific activities or attaining certain objectives in accordance with special regulations, restrictions or limitations, are grouped by type in the financial statements.

Basis of Accounting:

Governmental fund revenues and expenditures are recognized on the modified accrual basis. Revenues are recognized in the accounting period in which they become available and measurable. In the general fund, real estate and personal property tax levies are recorded as revenue in amounts equal to total taxes levied. Estimated losses for uncollectible accounts and abatements are recorded in the overlay account as expenditures. Expenditures for governmental fund types are recognized in the accounting period in which the fund liability is incurred, if measurable, except for unmatured interest on generally long-term debt and accumulated sick and annual leave pay, which are recognized when paid.

All other funds included in these financial statements are maintained and reported on the accrual basis.

DECEMBER 31, 1980

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued):

Inventories of Supplies:

Inventories of supplies are considered to be expenditures at the time of purchase and are not included in the general fund balance sheet.

Fixed Assets:

Fixed assets are not capitalized in the accounting records when acquired. Funds used to acquire fixed assets are accounted for as expenditures in the year payments are made.

NOTE 2 - OVER-EXPENDITURES:

During the year, the Town overexpended certain budgeted accounts, which will be raised through taxation in 1981.

NOTE 3 - BUDGETS:

General Fund:

The Town is currently preparing budgets under a net budgeting concept which does not estimate total revenues of the Town.

REPORT OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY SHERIFF (Contract Deputies)

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the Selectmen and the citizens of Standish for their cooperation in matters concerning the Police Services Contract. The law enforcement contract in Standish has proven to be very successful this past year. This was due to the harmony at the administrative level and the expertise of professional personnel working in the field.

Deputy James Prescott, who has been working the contract position since its inception in April, 1979, has worked many long hours beyond the contract agreement, and through his efforts the crime rate has been reduced in Standish. Dep. Jack Reardon and Dep. Robert Raymond worked the foot patrol during the past summer. As a direct result of their efforts, criminal activities in their assigned areas were controlled. Also, during their assigned shift they not only patrolled Sebago Lake Village, but the Simpson's Beach area, Steep Falls area and Standish Village.

In addition to the services to the contract deputies, we are pleased to have been able to continue supportive services to the Town. We have provided night patrol, coverage for sick leave and vacation time, as well as trained investigators, supervisory personnel, dispatchers, crime analysis and the availability of our record department.

Respectfully submitted,
MARTIN S. JOYCE, JR.
Sheriff, Cumberland County

REPORT OF THE ANIMAL CONTROL OFFICER

Since being appointed Dog Officer, I have tried to enforce the law with a more understanding approach. Fire Dispatch has been handling most incoming calls, logging complaints and lost dog reports, which has made it much easier for people to find their animals.

If animal owners would be more responsible and respectful to their neighbors, this budget could be greatly reduced. Only one out of a hundred dogs or cats born are properly cared for.

This year, I have answered over 400 calls and traveled 7,000 miles. I have taken 84 live dogs and 10 dead dogs to the Shelter in Westbrook. Only about 15 people have bothered to pick up their dogs; the rest have been anesthetized.

Respectfully submitted,
ERNEST C. GREENLAW
 Dog Control Officer

REPORT OF THE FIRE CHIEF

The Dispatch Center received a total of 10,194 telephone calls in 1981. The calls are broken down to 1,225 calls on the emergency lines, 1,972 for the fire department, 2,162 for police business, 2,517 for the rescue, 1,843 for general information, and 475 for miscellaneous complaints. The center also handled 13,347 radio transmissions and issued 517 burning permits.

The Rescue last year responded to 376 calls as to 406 in 1980. The Fire Department responded to 165 calls as to 154 in 1980. The Fire Department also inspected 136 chimneys last year.

The major expense for the year was vehicle maintenance. The ages of our fire trucks are starting to show. Half of our maintenance budget was spent on Engine One, a 1959 American LaFrance Pumper stationed in Sebago Lake.

The fire truck on Frye Island was lost in a fire when the building that it was housed in was destroyed by an electrical fire. We are proposing a solution to this problem along with major repairs to some of the fire trucks. The town's fire equipment and trucks have been appraised for insurance and the insurance has been changed to show any conflicts.

Respectfully submitted,
RALPH A. LEWIS

REPORT OF THE STANDISH RESCUE UNIT

During the past years, it has not been usual for the Deputy Chief of the Rescue Unit to submit an annual report to the citizens of Standish. The Selectmen and I felt a summary of activities and financial expenditures was necessary.

Large budget increases over the past several years can be attributed to inflation, increased medical services and increased medical training for Rescue Unit personnel.

Increased medical services have escalated relative to the population growth. The 1980 U.S. Census data shows an increase in resident population of 2,827 in the last ten years. In the early seventies, we averaged about one hundred fifty calls annually. In 1981, the Rescue Unit was dispatched to three hundred seventy-six rescue calls. This would convert to about 4,512 volunteer man hours.

Prior to 1975, the Rescue Unit membership was somewhat limited relative to training and availability in areas other than Sebago Lake Village. At the present time, our membership consists of twenty-four highly trained Emergency Medical Technicians, two Advanced Life Support members, and three Red Cross members. It is necessary to keep our members certified, which requires, by law, expensive refresher courses. The training would exceed well over 1,500 hours annually.

A new Rescue Unit went into service in August of 1981. The Town was financially responsible for its purchase. The Rescue Unit, with funds raised or donated, equipped the unit.

Monies donated by the Lions Club ($1,500.00), Standish Kiwanians ($2,500.00), American Legion ($4,000.00), the Center Memorial Clinic Auxiliary ($1,000.00), monies raised by the Town ($1,900.00), and monies acquired by fund-raising by the Rescue Unit ($2,700.00) have purchased the equipment for Rescue One. The members have committed an additional $1,300.00 to purchase new equipment within the last two months.

The donations from generous service clubs and individuals, in addition to Town funds, enable us to provide the citizens an efficient, well organized and effective service.

Respectfully submitted,
DAVID A. HOPKINS
Deputy Chief

REPORT OF THE PLANNING BOARD

During the year ending Dec. 31, 1981, the Planning Board held 12 regular meetings (the first non-holiday Monday of each month) and several special meetings.

In addition, the Planning Board held 17 workshops concentrating its efforts on preparing for voter approval a revision to the Comprehensive Plan, a new Zoning Map and proposed amendments to the Town of Standish Zoning Ordinances.

Mr. Evan Richert, of Portland Research and Communication, was hired to assist the board and with his help, the Planning Board was able to submit the material appearing in this year's warrant for consideration by secret ballot.

Respectfully submitted,
CHRISTINE M. HALL, Chairman

STANDISH RECREATION COMMITTEE'S REPORT

The Standish Recreation Committee would like to thank all the citizens of Standish for their support during the past year. The recreation program has had one of its most successful years in recent history.

Adult programs in Women's Physical Fitness, basketball and volleyball have been well received by the community. More adult programs are being planned for the future.

The baseball and softball leagues continued to grow in size with addition of teams. Over 350 youngsters participated in 1981. Both girls and boys teams played a fifteen game schedule plus play-offs and All Star Tournaments. Fine play was exhibited throughout the year and ended with outstanding representation by our Boys Little League All Stars at Gorham and our Babe Ruth All Stars at the State Tournament held in Bath.

The Girls Little League All Stars won their tournament made up of teams from Buxton, Bar Mills, Hollis and Gorham. As did the Standish Babe Ruth Girls in capturing the Cumberland-York Major League Softball title both in the regular season and tournament. Congratulations to all on a fine season and a special thanks to all umpires.

In the Summer Recreation Program enrollment reached 350 boys and girls. Each week had its special excitement. The Pee Wee Program had great success with over 38 youngsters attending four half days per week.

Racquetball, bowling, and rollerskating trips were always filled each day of the week. Over 150 youngsters took trips to Funtown and Aquaboggan as part of the varied activities offered by the Recreation Department. The largest attendance of the summer may have been for the performance of Jud the Jester held at George E. Jack.

Track and field continued to enjoy success even though the numbers were small compared to recent years. Three State Champions came from Standish at the Hershey Track and Field Championships held in Orono and fourteen boys and girls qualified for the State Junior Olympics held at Scarborough.

Over 100 youngsters were involved in our summer swimming program held at Kwanis Beach. Each week ended with a Beach Day as over 120 participants enjoyed themselves at area beaches each Friday. A special thanks to the staff for a highly successful summer.

The formation of a six team Standish Youth Soccer League provided over 80 boys and girls a great amount of enjoyment this past fall. Already, requests for more teams have been made ensuring growth of this league in the future.

As director of Recreation, I wish to express a very sincere, thank you, to all sponsors and coaches of various softball, baseball, and soccer teams. Your work and backing have given the children of Standish many hours of enjoyment.

The Standish Recreation Committee meets the second Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at the Municipal building. All members of the public are invited to attend.

Respectfully submitted,
ROBERT D. BOURGET
Director of Recreation

SACO RIVER CORRIDOR COMMISSION REPORT

The Saco River Corridor Commission administers the Saco River Corridor Act which regulates land use within 500 to 1000 feet of the Saco, Ossipee, and Little Ossipee Rivers. The Commission is made up of representatives of the 20 communities bordering the 3 rivers, and each town within the Corridor is represented by one regular member and one alternate member appointed by the Selectmen. The Commission meets once a month to consider applications for permits and to discuss other matters which relate to the Saco River Corridor region. Standish's regular Commission member is Karen Z. Atkinson. Mrs. Atkinson also served this year as a member of the Commission's Finance Committee.

One of the Commission's major functions is the consideration of permit applications for construction within the Corridor. During the past year (January 1, 1981 through December 31, 1981), the Commission considered a total of 37 permit applications and reconsidered 3 applications previously denied. It also considered 11 amendments to permits previously granted and held 11 public hearings. Of the permit applications and amendments considered by the Commission this year, 2 were for construction activities within the Town of Standish.

Any Standish resident interested in obtaining additional information about the Commission or the effect of the Saco River Corridor Act on their land should call either the Standish representative to the Commission or Margaret Roy, Commission Director, at 625-8123.

Respectfully submitted,
KAREN Z. ATKINSON

REPORT OF CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Board of Selectmen
Town of Standish
Standish, Maine

We have examined the financial statements of the various funds and general long-term debt group of accounts of the Town of Standish for the years ended December 31, 1981 and 1980, as listed in the table of contents. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

As is the usual practice of Municipalities in the State of Maine, the Town has not maintained a record of its general fixed assets and, accordingly, a statement of general fixed assets, required by generally accepted accounting principles, is not included in the financial report.

In our opinion, the financial statements listed in the aforementioned table of contents present fairly the financial position of such funds and the general long-term debt group of accounts of the Town of Standish at December 31, 1981 and 1980, and the results of operations of such funds for the years then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a consistent basis.

The accompanying supplemental schedules and related information presented as Schedules 1 through 6 are not necessary for a fair presentation of the financial statements, but are presented as additional analytical data. This information has been subjected to the tests and other auditing procedures applied in the examination of the financial statements mentioned above and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

TOWN OF STANDISH, MAINE
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 1981

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

The Town of Standish, Maine currently operates under a Town Meeting - Selectmen form of Government.

The accounting policies of the Town conform to generally accepted accounting principles as applicable to state and local governmental units. The following is a summary of the more significant policies.

Basis of Presentation:

The accounts of the Town are organized on the basis of funds and account groups, each of which is considered a separate accounting entity. The operation of each fund are accounted for by providing a separate set of self-balancing accounts which comprise its assets, liabilities, fund equities, revenues and expenditures. The various funds, which are segregated for the purpose of carrying on specific activities or attaining certain objectives in accordance with special regulations, restrictions or limitations, are grouped by type in the financial statements.

Basis of Accounting:

Governmental fund revenues and expenditures are recognized on the modified accrual basis. Revenues are recognized in the accounting period in which they become available and measurable. In the general fund, real estate and personal property tax levies are recorded as revenue in amounts equal to total taxes levied. Estimated losses for uncollectible accounts and abatements are recorded in the overlay account as expenditures. Expenditures for governmental fund types are recognized in the accounting period in which the fund liability is incurred, if measurable, except for unmatured interest on generally long-term debt and accumulated sick and annual leave pay, which are recognized when paid.

All other funds included in these financial statements are maintained and reported on the accrual basis.

E 1 - SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued):

Inventories of Supplies:

Inventories of supplies are considered to be expenditures at the time purchase and are not included in the general fund balance sheet.

Fixed Assets:

Fixed assets are not capitalized in the accounting records when acquired. Funds used to acquire fixed assets are accounted for as expenditures in the year payments are made.

E 2 - SUPPLEMENTAL APPROPRIATIONS AND OVER-EXPENDITURES:

At various times during the year, the Town voted supplemental appropriations totaling $86,953. for various purposes which are reflected as the excess of budgeted expenditures and other uses over budgeted revenues and other sources as Exhibit B-2.

During the year, the Town overexpended certain budgeted accounts, which will be raised through taxation in 1982.

E 3 - BUDGETS:

General Fund:

The Town is currently preparing budgets under a net budgeting concept which does not estimate total revenues of the Town.

REVALUATION LETTER

To the Taxpayers of the Town of Standish:

Last Sept. your selectmen contracted us to make a revaluation of the town for taxation purposes.

At this writing we have approximately 15% of the work accomplished.

Following are facts that we would like to have all taxpayers understand.

One of the most important facts is where the responsibility lays in regards to taxes, and this is: It is each taxpayer's responsibility to see that the taxes are paid on the property they own. Your taxes could be omitted from the tax list by error. This does not mean that if you don't get a tax bill that you don't have to pay taxes.

All taxes on land, real estate, and personal property are assessed according to market value. We measure the market at today's prices and establish guidelines as to what property is worth.

In Standish we have found that the present land values are very low, therefore there will be a large change in land values.

In the past some personal property has been overlooked which we will be including.

Overall we have found that the people of Standish have been very friendly. One thing we would like to mention. Many people would like to talk and ask questions. We would like to have the time to talk with each and every one but we simply don't have the time. Please understand.

One last comment. Revaluation does not mean that taxes will go up. If your town does not have an increase in operating cost for the year of revaluation there will not be any increase, merely a redistribution. If your taxes should go up, this means that you probably were not paying your share for previous years. This is the reason for revaluation periodically.

Sincerely,

RICHARD & ARLITA EATON

INTRODUCTION

In 1969 the Town of Standish had a comprehensive plan prepared to help guide it through what it believed would be a period of rapid growth.

This assumption of rapid growth turned out to be more true than even the authors of the comprehensive plan envisioned. They projected that by 1980 population would be 115% over the 1960 level. In fact, 1980 population was nearly 200% over the 1960 level.

Anticipating a period of suburbanization such as Standish had not previously experienced, the 1969 comprehensive plan sought to strengthen the town's ability to cope with it through a mix of land use regulation, capital improvement projects, and upgraded public services. The overall philosophy of the plan seemed to be that the town should encourage a compact, village-oriented growth, so that it could afford to service the growth as it occurred.

The tools recommended by the plan to bring about this growth pattern and service it included:

- Adoption of a zoning ordinance that accommodated growth principally in Standish village and Sebago Lake village and the Route 35 area in between, and at Steep Falls village. At the same time it was recommended that roadside "strip" development scattered through the rural parts of the town be discouraged.

- Establishment of resource conservation areas along major stream corridors.
- Adoption of a subdivision ordinance that would require public facilities, including roads, installed by developers to be built to public standards.
- An extensive road construction program that would provide a system of collector roads to service projected areas of growth.
- A public sewer system to service the recommended pattern of growth in the Sebago Lake-to-Standish village area, plus package treatment plants to service those seasonal areas (Frye Island, White's Point) expected to be converted to year-round communities.
- A gradual upgrading of public services, including police and fire protection, town garage, town dump facilities, and municipal offices.

During the decade of the Seventies, the comprehensive plan's predicted level of growth not only happened, it was exceeded. Eventually the town did adopt a series of land use controls, including a Shoreland Zoning Ordinance, a Zoning Ordinance, a Subdivision Ordinance, and Site Plan Review Ordinance, and to a large extent the location of the various land use zones coincided with the plan's proposals. On the other hand, the recommended pattern of village-oriented growth did not occur during the Seventies. In fact, the largest growth areas in the town (White's Bridge and Manchester Road) are located well away from the villages, almost at two extremes of the town. Nor have most of the capital improvement projects for roads and sewers been undertaken. As time has worn on and the cost of such projects have skyrocketed, they appear now to be less practical than ever.

Yet, Standish, because it is in the direct path of suburbanization, will continue to grow. The Planning Board therefore thinks it timely to review the town's set of land use ordinances, and the comprehensive plan that is their foundation, and to update them as necessary to reflect the town's growth and change over the past twelve years.

This 1981 Update of the Comprehensive Plan is organized into three parts:

Part I - a series of background reports updating data and growth trends (population, housing, commercial/industrial growth, natural resources, utilities, transportation, town services).

Part II - policy statements, setting forth as concisely as possible the directions the Board and Town intend to take in managing future growth.

Part III - implementing documents, that is, the amendments to the zoning map and land use ordinances that would put the policies in Part II into effect.

This update is just that: an update that will assure the Town is on sound legal footings as it modifies its land use ordinances. At a future date the Board and Town may wish a complete overhaul of their comprehensive plan, a task that would require a number of months of work and debate.

PART I
BACKGROUND REPORTS

UPDATE ON POPULATION

In 1973, the United States Bureau of the Census discovered that for the first time in 150 years, rural America was growing faster than urban America.

Until 1950, the central cities showed strong growth as a result of a steady century-long flow of population from rural areas to the cities in search of jobs. By World War II, the agrarian society of the mid-19th century was a distant memory.

This exodus from rural America continued after World War II for another 20 years, though now -- with the availability of the automobile, cheap land, and cheap home financing -- it was the suburbs that were burgeoning. The central cities, unable to offer middle class households the life style they were after, lost population, and continue to do so today. But the suburbs, within easy commuting distance of the cities, remained economically tied to them and were absorbed into the overall metropolitan picture. Rural states like Maine, and rural towns, outside the metropolitan ring continued to lose population to these metropolitan regions.

Then unexpectedly, in the 1970's, this pattern of migration reversed itself. Rural states, and rural towns within states, experienced a sudden influx of migration. This influx intensified the pattern of suburbanization, and the more remote, outer rings of towns around the metropolitan areas saw an unprecedented surge of growth.

Standish is one of the towns in this outer ring around the Portland metropolitan area, and its experience has paralleled the national pattern.

Growth in Standish

Standish, like rural towns across the country, lost a third of its population between 1850 and 1900. For the next fifty years, the population level was stagnant. Then between 1950 and 1970, the Portland area's suburbanization population began to spill over into Standish, which was at the outer edge of the Portland region. The Town grew by 75% during this period and for the first time surpassed its 1850 population level.

But this 20-year boost in population was merely a sign of things to come. During the 1970's the population nearly doubled -- bringing with it new demands for housing and services, and changes in the Town's character and lifestyle.

Thus, since 1950, Standish's population has more than tripled. (See Table I) Perhaps half of its nearly 6,000 people have lived in the Town less than ten years. And -- for reasons that will become clearer in other background reports -- it is likely that Standish's growth will continue for the next 10-20 years, though perhaps at a somewhat reduced rate. After reviewing a number of population projections for the Town by the Maine State

Planning Office, the Greater Portland Council of Governments, and the 1969 comprehensive plan, the Council of Governments' projection seems the most realistic. It estimates the Town will reach a population of 8,500 by the year 2000. (Source: "Past Trends and Future Projections," Greater Portland Council of Governments, November 1977.)

Components of Change

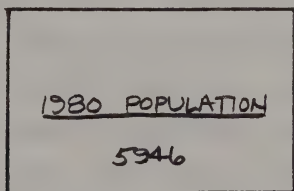

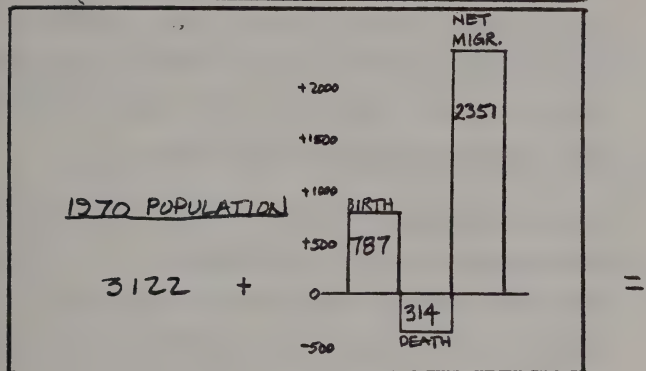

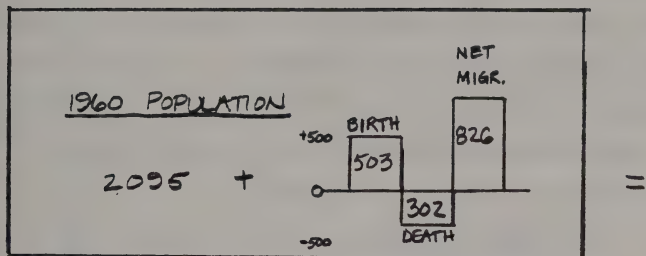

The nature of this surge in population is better understood by looking at how it came about. The Town's population changes as a result of births, deaths, migration out of the town, and migration into the town. Table 3 illustrates the components of Standish's population change.

From 1960-1970, natural growth (births minus deaths) accounted for about 20% of the Town's total growth, while net migration (in-migration minus out-migration) accounted for about 80%. As was the case throughout Maine and the nation, birth rates began to drop in Standish during the 1960's from the record high rates of the baby boom years. However, Standish's rates declined less than the state's and less than the rates in urban communities. Meanwhile, net migration, which was relatively modest during the 1960's, indicated that the suburbanization of the Portland area population was now reaching Standish.

COMPONENTS OF POPULATION CHANGE

1960-1980

During the 1970's the natural increase of population in Standish was double the natural increase of the previous decade. But the increase due to net migration was nearly triple the net migration of the 1960's. Net migration accounted for 83% of the Town's growth during the 1970's.

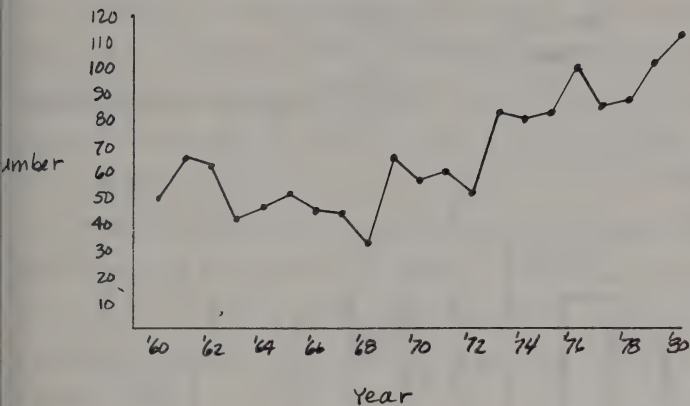

Both the natural increase and the net migration figures of the 1970's are remarkable:

- the natural increase, because during a decade when birth rates plummeted in many areas, Standish's rates remained steady. Thus, as the population base grew from in-migration, the number of births grew significantly during the decade.
- the net migration, because it signals the suburbanization of Standish and suggests that the forces attracting people to the Town are not merely related to "life style" and "rural living", but probably are at least partly economic (e.g., nearness to job) as well. If this is true, then the fuel that is firing the influx to the Town (and other nearby communities) can be expected to continue for some time to come.

Table 4 illustrates the number of births and the birth rates for Standish. The rising births in recent years means a projected increase in the K through Grade 2 school population through at least 1985 (See Table 5).

Character of the Population

Standish's population on the whole is growing older but still is younger than the overall Cumberland County population; it is solidly middle income in terms of wealth; and it is home for an increasingly broad mix of blue- and white-collar workers.

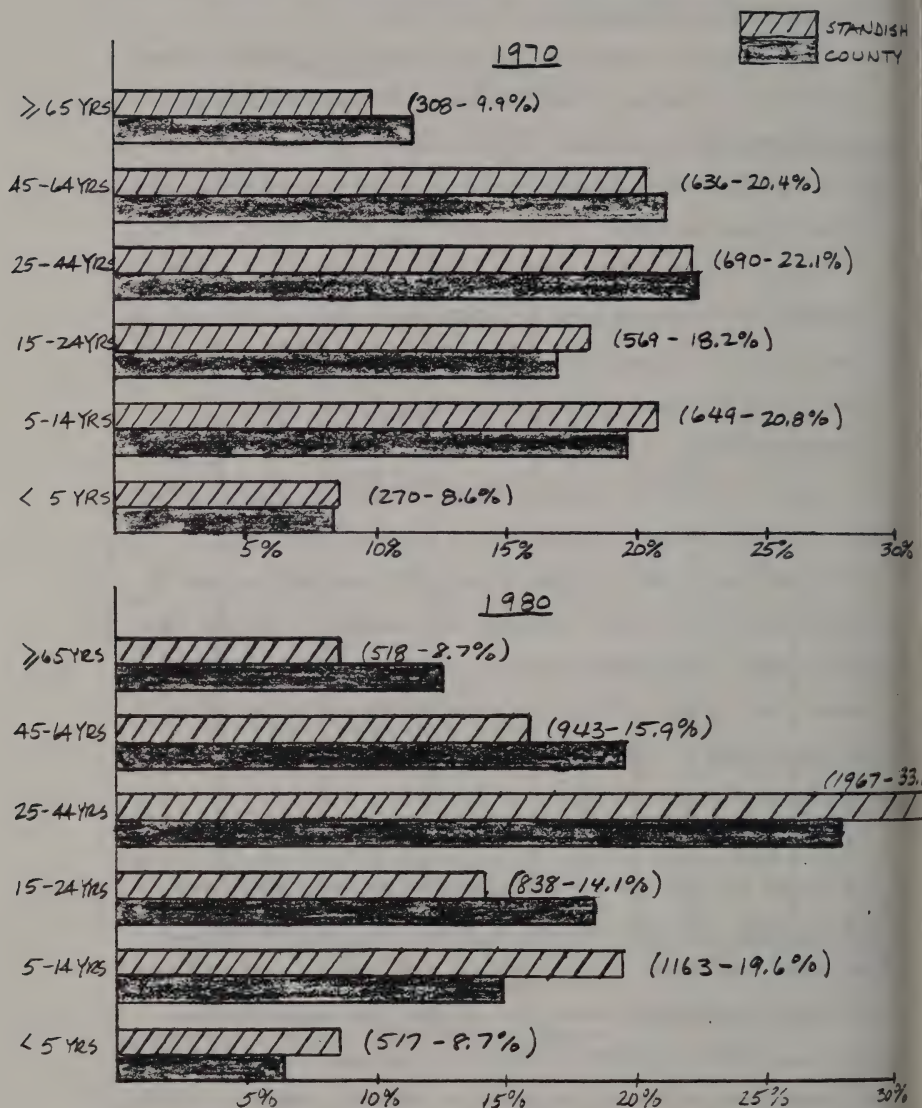

These trends cannot be verified until release of detailed 1980 Census data in 1983, but important clues are available. If these trends have been accurately identified, they are further documentation of the Town's suburbanization.

Age: The 1970 Census showed Standish's population to include a larger percentage of people under age 24 than the County as a whole, about the same percentage of people age 25-44, and a smaller percentage of people age 45 and over. The median age in 1970 was just under 27 years old. About 10% of the population was 65 or older, and about 29% of the population was 15 or younger. (See Table 6).

By 1980, several demographic factors -- especially the entry of the "baby boom" generation into adulthood -- had changed the composition of Standish's population. The most important change is that the 25-44 years old age group now comprises one-third of the population (versus just one-fifth in 1970). This is the peak age period for reproduction and helps explain the rising number of births in town. It also suggests that a significant number of in-migrants during the seventies were young couples and young families.

Standish in 1980 continued to be considerably "younger" than the county as a whole. Persons under 15 years old continue to comprise over 28% of the population (versus 21% for the county); and those over 65 are less than 9% of the population (versus almost 13% for the county).

Standish's median age is 28.7 years old -- older than in 1970, but younger than the county at 30.9.

Income: According to 1979 income tax data, the average adjusted gross income in Standish (per tax return) was $14,660. This was about equal to the County average, and was significantly higher than either the State's or Portland's average. (See Table 7)

The 1980 Census will detail the Town's income characteristics. It is likely to show that Standish has proportionately fewer poor and fewer rich than the County as a whole, with the largest segment in the $15,000 - $25,000 category.

Labor force: The Town in 1970 already had a strong mix of professionals and blue collar workers. This mix is typical of a suburbanizing community.

A rural community that is well outside of a metropolitan area typically has a very high percentage of blue collar workers (skilled and unskilled) and a modest level of professionals/managers. An urban community (especially the larger cities) typically has a relatively high percentage of professionals, a modest level of blue collar workers, and high percentage of sales, clerical, and service workers. A suburban community is more heterogenous than the others, with a strong mix of professional and blue collar workers, and fewer sales, clerical, and service workers than a larger city.

Standish increasingly resembles a suburban community.
(See Table 8)

Analysis and Conclusions

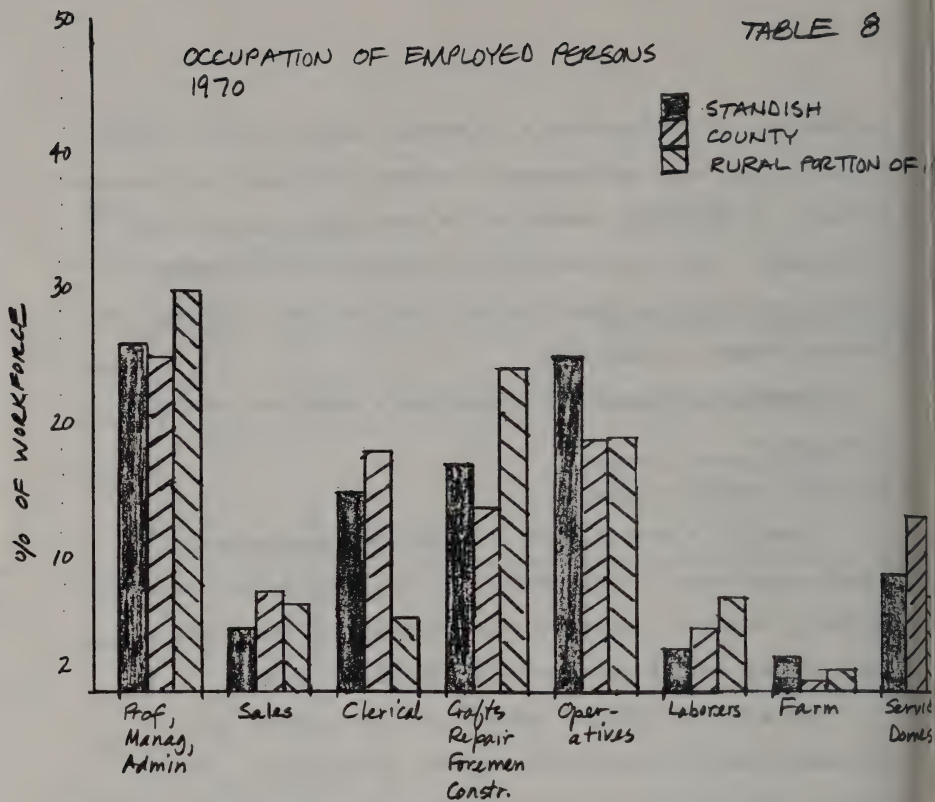

Standish's growth over the past decade was not a "flash-in-the-pan" occurrence. It followed a nationwide pattern, in which towns outside of metropolitan areas grew faster than towns inside metropolitan areas.

There was no single reason for this growth, and for the decisions of households to move to Standish. The major reasons probably fall into these categories:

(1) Desire for a more "rural" lifestyle. In the Planning Board's recent community attitude survey, about a third of those responding said they live in Standish because it is rural.

(2) Cheap land, cheap home financing. Land is less expensive outside the metropolitan area, and throughout the 1970's, low-interest Farmers Home Administration mortgages made home ownership in suburban and rural areas cheaper than living in the cities.

TABLE 8

OCCUPATION OF EMPLOYED PERSONS
1970

(3) Economic reasons. Not only has population "decentralized", so have jobs. If the Planning Board's survey is accurate, half or more of the Town's labor force work in nearby suburban communities rather than the urban center of Portland-South Portland. In choosing a more rural environment, these job holders have not sacrificed the convenience of living close to their jobs.

While home financing in the current economy is no longer cheap -- and certainly has contributed to a slowdown in growth in Standish and elsewhere -- most of the other reasons for moving to Standish will remain valid for the decade to come. The fuel for growth remains. Nearby jobs and the rural environment will continue to attract people. As over the past 20 years, many of these immigrants will be young persons in their reproductive years, adding further to the Town's momentum for growth. The town must continue to plan for it.

UPDATE ON NATURAL RESOURCES

A town's natural resource system has a powerful influence on the way the town grows. The opportunities provided by the resource base often are a stimulant to growth. Where the natural resources are fragile or restricted, they also help define the limits to growth.

The Topography

A town's topography -- its hills, valleys and ridges -- profoundly influence its settlement patterns. Its transportation network, for example, seeks always to avoid the steeper slopes, and instead follows ridges or runs through passes between hills. Early settlements, which served as the nucleus for today's village centers, typically sought the high ground for the building of community facilities. Standish village, built near the high point of a ridge that separates the head waters of the Sticky River from the head waters of the Little River, is a classic example of the influence of topography on early settlement patterns.

The topography of Standish is marked by a series of rolling, primarily wooded hills, with low-lying flat areas in between.

The dominant topographic feature is a ridge that runs north to south through the town, connecting Breakheart Hill, Rich Hill, Oak Hill and several smaller peaks. To the west of this ridge line, the town drains to the Saco River. To the east of it, the town drains primarily to Sebago Lake.

A secondary ridge runs from the southwest to the northeast, just west of Standish village and Route 35 to Sebago Lake Village. This ridge separates the drainage of the Sticky River to Sebago Lake and the drainage of the Little River to the Presumpscot.

This system of ridges, then, splits Standish into its major watersheds:

- the Saco River to the west
- Sebago Lake to the east
- the Presumpscot River to the southeast of Standish village.

(A watershed is a geographical area within which all water drains to the same point.)

The Saco River and Sebago Lake watersheds are, in turn, split into smaller watersheds, each of which is drained by an important stream. Understanding these smaller watersheds is the key to understanding how the town's natural systems function.

The Saco River watershed is divided into:

- the Tucker Brook watershed, which drains a portion of Steep Falls enroute to the Saco.
- the Strout Brook watershed, which drains Little Watchic Pond and the Middle Road-Boundary Road areas enroute to the Saco.

- the Watchic Pond watershed, which drains Watchic Pond and a developing portion of Manchester Road enroute to the Saco.
- the Josies Brook watershed, which drains a large part of South Standish enroute to the Saco.
- the Bonny Eagle watershed, which drains a portion of Route 35 and Bonny Eagle Pond enroute to the Saco.

The Sebago Lake watershed is divided into:

- the Standish Brook watershed, a small watershed that drains Sebago Lake village enroute to Sebago Lake.
- the Sticky River watershed, which drains the westerly corner of Standish Village and part of Oak Hill enroute to Sebago Lake.
- the Rich Mill watershed, which drains Richville enroute to Sebago Lake.
- a series of small shoreline watersheds that drain the seasonal communities of Ward's Cove and Harmon's Beach enroute to Sebago Lake, as well as the growing White Bridge area on the eastern side of Sebago.

Most of Standish village itself is in the Little River watershed, ultimately draining neither to the Saco nor to Sebago Lake, but rather to the Presumpscot River.

The Soils

In a municipality without a public sewer system, the soils are called upon to handle waste via individual underground waste disposal systems. The character of a town's soils, of course, determines the limits and opportunities for many activities -- farming, forestry, recreation, construction -- but in a suburbanizing town the key is how well the soils can handle waste. Over the long run, this characteristic will be a major shaper of the town's growth.

The soils of Standish fall into four general categories:

1. The most abundant soil association is the Windsor-Hinckley association. This association typically is deep to bedrock (five feet or more) and is excessively well drained. Because of the coarse texture of these soils, they exhibit a rapid permeability of water. Thus, they are moderately limited as homesites with septic systems, because of possible groundwater pollution from the effluent. The Maine State Plumbing Code suggests a minimum lot size of 40,000 square feet for homes with septic systems on these soils. The soils should be avoided for any large scale dumping (sanitary landfills, oily waste sites, etc.)

Because the soils tend to be droughty in dry weather, there is a limitation on agricultural use. The town's Hinckley soils are a good source of sand and gravel, and have been so used in the past.

The Windsor-Hinckley soils are especially prominent in the western half of Standish, in the Tucker Brook, Strout Brook, and Josies Brook watersheds, all of which drain to the Saco River. It includes the growing area along Manchester Road and around Watchic Pond. These soils also are prominent in the Rich Mill Pond area and the Otter Ponds area.

2. Perhaps Standish's most favorable soil for development is the Herman series. It is a deep, well drained soil. Its water table generally is three-to-five feet deep and depth to bedrock is five feet or more. In Standish the Herman soil most evident is stony and moderately coarse, and, therefore, permeability is rapid. The Maine State Plumbing Code suggests a minimum lot size of 20,000 square feet for homes with septic systems on these soils. Because of the soil's permeability, use for sanitary landfills should be avoided.

This soil is predominant in four areas of Standish: the White's Bridge area; the area between Route 35 and Rich Hill along the Shaw Mills Road; the northwestern section of town near Sebago Lake; and on Frye Island. These areas are in watersheds that generally drain to Sebago Lake.

3. The third important soils category in Standish is the Paxton series, which underlies most of the developed portion of Standish village and extends northwesterly to Oak Hill and southerly along Route 35.

This is a well-drained soil with a depth to bedrock of five feet or more. However, the presence of a fragipan (a brittle, cement-like layer of soil) typically at 20 inches below the surface restricts the soil's permeability at that level. This in turn limits use for homesites with septic systems. The Maine State Plumbing Code suggests a minimum lot size of 30,000 square feet.

This soil is better suited to agriculture than the others discussed above, and is recognized by the Soil Conservation Service as potentially prime farmland.

4. The fourth grouping of soils actually is a variety of poorly drained soils that are frequently found in association with one or another of the soils discussed above. Septic systems generally would be prohibited by the Maine State Plumbing Code on these soils. Especially prominent among them are Sebago mucky peat (a poorly drained organic soil with water near the surface throughout the year), Au Gres (a poorly drained coarse soil with the water table within one foot of the surface), Walpole, Ondawa (a well-drained soil which, however, is susceptible to flooding), and Ridgebury (a poorly drained soil with water table less than a foot below the surface).

These soils dominate several areas of town: a wide area above Steep Falls village in the Tucker Brook and Strout Brook watersheds; a continuous strip along the Saco River; and the lands adjacent to most of the streams in town.

The Surface Waters

As the earlier section on Topography suggests, Standish is marked by extensive stream and pond systems that are tied to two dominating water bodies: Sebago Lake and the Saco River. Both water bodies have been so central to the town's historical development that it is difficult to imagine a Town of Standish without them.

Sebago Lake: Sebago Lake is the largest body of fresh water in Southern Maine and collects water from a 436 square mile watershed area. It is the public water supply source for Greater Portland municipalities with populations totaling nearly 160,000 (including portions of Standish). The Portland Water District years ago purchased extensive lands in Standish along the southerly shores of the lake to protect the quality of water near its intakes. The lake is a deep clear cold water body -- the original home of the landlocked salmon, and of excellent water quality. It is a class GP-A lake (the highest water quality designation for lakes). The beautiful shoreline has attracted extensive seasonal development, and as these developments convert to year round use, improved septic system management is important. The Portland Water District chlorinates Standish Brook as it outlets to the lake, and state law establishes limits around the district's intakes within which recreational activity is restricted. Frye Island, part of Standish, is the largest island in Sebago Lake and the site of substantial seasonal home development.

Saco River: The Saco drains a watershed extending from New Hampshire to the Atlantic. It forms the westerly boundary line of Standish. Its importance as a state resource was underscored in the early seventies by the establishment under state law of the Saco River Corridor Commission to regulate land use within the river's corridor. The Saco is a class B-1 water body, meaning that, it is suitable for fishing, swimming, and (with treatment) water supply.

As dominating as Sebago Lake and the Saco River are as individual water bodies, their health is directly tied to the lesser streams and ponds that drain to them. The quality of these streams and ponds is, in turn, the direct result of the patterns and types of development occurring within their individual watersheds and draining to them.

Of particular note are:

Tucker Brook: A Class B-1 stream that is the source of Steep Falls village's public water supply. Much of this watershed is within a State Wildlife Management Area.

Watchic Pond: A Class GP-A lake which, despite heavy development along its shores, is of good water quality. Much of the development, which has existed for a long time and is increasingly used year-round, undoubtedly is served by substandard waste disposal systems. The pond has been able to withstand the pollution loads that may be coming from these systems principally because of a high flushing rate (an estimated five times per year, compared to a statewide average for lakes and ponds of less than twice per year). However, according to the Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) the pond's bottom layers of water do suffer from oxygen depletion in late summer. If the depletion becomes more severe, it would signal a deterioration of water quality. Sensible septic system and land use management therefore is important. The pond, which drains a 4 square mile area has a 448-acre surface area and is managed for a large-mouth bass fishery by the Department of Inland Fish and Wildlife.

Josies Brook: This stream's watershed is not heavily developed, but because it drains an extensive area in south Standish it is worthy of note. The 1969 comprehensive plan proposed it as a resource conservation area. It is a class B-1 stream.

Bonny Eagle Lake: Despite rumors of bacteria problems and a possible trend toward eutrophication, Bonny Eagle has been found by DEP to be of good water quality. It is a GP-A class lake. However, the lake is heavily developed and its shoreline is characterized by sandy soils that would allow rapid transport of waste effluent to the lake. Therefore, sensible septic system and land use management is important. The lake drains a watershed of nearly 4 square miles and has a surface area of 211 acres.

Rich Mill Pond-Sticky River: These two systems converge at the southerly end of Sebago Lake. Together they drain a substantial portion of Standish. They are not heavily developed watersheds, though the town's sanitary landfill is in the Sticky River drainage area. These stream systems -- the Rich Mill Pond system more so than Sticky River -- appear from soils and geology to be potentially sensitive, and, given their proximity to Sebago Lake, "should be the subject of sensible land use management.

The Ground Waters

A substantial portion of Standish households rely on wells for their water supply. This percentage is growing, since most of the Town's growth in the last ten years has been outside of the Standish and Sebago Lake village areas, which are served by public water supply from Sebago Lake. Ground water therefore is a critical resource to the Town.

Given the coarse-grained nature of much of the soil in Standish, it is not surprising that these are substantial surface and subsurface areas good at accepting and storing water. These areas are known as "recharge" areas -- meaning that they are important for the replenishment of groundwater; and the water-bearing layers of soil underlying the recharge areas are "aquifers". The aquifers are the primary source of water for those relying on wells. Aquifers also are closely tied to lakes and streams, replenishing them in times of low precipitation.

The Maine Geological Survey has mapped the most productive aquifer boundaries in Standish. This information is important for two reasons:

- to help locate sites that are favorable for the development of wells, and
- to help locate sites that are unfavorable for the storage or disposal of wastes or toxic or hazardous materials (which would seep into and contaminate the groundwater supply).

For purposes of land use planning, residential and other development need not be excluded from aquifer recharge areas, but the development should proceed at a density and according to standards that will not impair the aquifer's vital function.

There are four large areas in Standish which the Maine Geological Survey estimates can supply useful volumes of groundwater (10 to 50 gallons per minute and 50 or more gallons per minute).

The largest is a wide area that stretches from Watchic Pond along the Saco River to Steep Falls and nearly up to Adams Pond. In this extensive stretch, the areas immediately around Watchic Pond and Little Watchic Pond -- undoubtedly because the groundwaters are interconnected with the pond waters -- are the most productive (and probably the most susceptible to groundwater pollution as well).

The next largest area starts from Sebago Lake, between Harmon Beach and Ward's Cove, and sweeps down in a crescent-shaped manner to encompass the Rich Mill Pond area, ending just north of the outlet of the Sticky River to Sebago Lake. The stretch around Rich Mill Pond to Richville is estimated to be a highly productive area.

The third area starts at the southerly tip of Sebago Lake, encompasses the Otter Ponds, and stretches into Gorham. The fourth area surrounds Bonny Eagle Lake, with the most productive portion to the northwest of the pond. However, unlike the Watchic Ponds, it is thought that the connection between pond and groundwater is not as strong.

Flood Plains

The Federal Emergency Management Agency has identified, for insurance purposes, the Town's "100-year flood plains". These are the lands adjacent to water bodies that have a one percent chance of flooding each year. From a public safety point of view, structures within the flood plains are theoretically vulnerable to flood damage and, therefore, new construction must meet certain structural requirements to be insurable. From a land use management point of view, the flood plains are critical parts of the Town's natural drainage system, providing natural storage for flood waters.

The flood plains are not particularly extensive in Standish, beyond the immediate stream corridors and lake shores. The exceptions are in the Tucker Brook-Strout Brook watersheds, where there are large, flat boggy areas; the upper reaches of the Rich Mill Pond tributaries; and in the flat area that divides the headwaters of the Sticky River and Josies Brook.

Wildlife Areas

Standish contains several wildlife areas of importance:

1. Steep Falls Wildlife Management Area: this 2,300-acre area was purchased by the State of Maine between 1974 and 1977. It encompasses most of the Tucker Brook watershed above Steep Falls. This area met the criteria for acquisition by the Department of Inland Fish and Wildlife: a large tract of upland habitat, vulnerable to development, strategically located and accessible to a large population center. The area is a productive woodland and wildlife area (white-tail deer, small game and furbearers, migratory birds, and brook trout) managed for use by the public.

2. Standish Sanctuary: adjacent to (and overlapping slightly with) the wildlife management area is a comparably-sized game preserve. The preserve -- in which hunting and trapping are prohibited -- runs along the northerly side of Boundary Road between Steep Falls and Richville, and extends in width to an area about 1.25 miles north of the Maine Central Railroad tracks.

Together, the management area and sanctuary comprise a very sizeable portion of the northwestern area of Standish, reserving it for wildlife management. The management area, state-owned, is off limits to development. The sanctuary, made up of several privately owned lands, may be sold for development. But much of it is owned by firms or individuals unlikely to sell in the near future.

3. Wetlands: The Department of Inland Fish and Wildlife also has identified seven wetland areas of moderate-to-high wildfowl value: (1) an area west of Harmon Beach, (2) Rich Mill Pond, (3) the area where Rich Mill Pond system converges with the Sticky River, (4) Little Watchic Pond, (5) and (6) two small areas north and west of Watchic Pond, and (7) Duck Pond.

Conclusions

An examination of a Town's natural resource system will not precisely define its potential for growth. But it does sketch out where the limits and opportunities lie. In combination with other information, such as traffic counts, availability of land, and recent growth trends, the direction of growth can be projected and measures adopted to guide it. "Viable growth areas" (accessible to town services and utilities and having the natural capacity to absorb growth) include the Standish-to-Sebago Lake village area; an area west of the villages and north of Oak Hill Rd.; portions of rt. 25 from Standish to Two Trails; and the White's Bridge area. The most "limited" areas (distant from town services and utilities and environmentally vulnerable) include the Tucker Brook watershed north of Steep Falls; the Rich Mill Pond area; the lowlands between the Sticky River and Josies Brook; and the immediate shoreline of Watchic Pond.

UPDATE ON WATER SUPPLY AND SEWERAGE

Water Supply

Two public water systems, both owned by the Portland Water District, serve Standish.

One system, supplied from Sebago Lake, serves Sebago Lake village, south along Route 35 to include the industrial area and a residential subdivision at Shaw Mills Road, and continuing south to Standish village. In Standish village the service area includes Route 25 east nearly to the Gorham town line, a portion of Oak Hill Road, Route 25 west just beyond Village View Road, and Route 35 south, stopping short of Apple Lane. This system (as of April 30, 1981) had 279 active customers, approximately 45 of whom were nonresidential.

The second system, supplied from a well field near Tucker Brook off Route 113, serves Steep Falls village. The service area includes Route 113 from Boundary Road through the village, Mill Street and Main Street. In 1977 the system produced 14.28 million gallons of water. As of April 30, 1981, it had 130 active customers, 18 of whom were nonresidential.

While these service areas are significant, the figures show that less than 20% of Standish's approximately 2082 year-round dwelling units rely on public water. The other 80% draw on individual wells. Because most of the Town's growth has been outside of the village, this proportion is increasing.

The Town's current zoning ordinance allows a somewhat higher residential density in areas supplied by public water.

The Portland Water District, of course, is the water supplier for much of the Portland region. Its intakes from Sebago Lake are located in Standish. To protect water quality, the district has purchased extensive shorefront acreage all along the southern tip of the lake. In addition, a 3000-foot zone around the intakes has been established in which no trespassing is allowed, and a 2-mile limit has been established in which recreation is restricted.

Sewerage

The 1969 comprehensive plan recommended construction of a public sewerage system to serve Sebago Lake village, Standish village, and the Route 35 area in between. It also recommended that growth in these areas be allowed to occur at a density (quarter-to-half acre lots) that could support the costs of such a system.

The high cost of sewage treatment facilities, the likely difficulty in finding an economical discharge point, and the scarcity of federal funds all suggest that Standish will rely on individual waste systems for the foreseeable future.

This conclusion is underscored by a 1977 sewerage feasibility study performed for the Town by the Greater Portland Council of Governments. That study compared the costs of a system of responsible septic system management (including proper maintenance and code enforcement) to the costs of public sewerage in the three village areas. GPCOG found that even with federal and state aid, the annual cost per user for public sewerage would be 1.3 to 3.5 times more expensive than individual private systems.

However, the study also pointed to an historic water quality problem at Standish Brook in Sebago Lake village and urged strong enforcement throughout the Town of local and state plumbing codes, including some type of maintenance program, to assure properly functioning septic systems.

A sound management system is especially important in areas of older seasonal units now being converted to year-round use. Septic systems serving such units are regulated under state law, but because "conversion" can be almost an invisible process, enforcement is difficult. As the current municipal revaluation of properties proceeds, it should become clear as to which properties are seasonal as of 1981-82, and these can be monitored for conversions. Adherence to septic system management laws is critical to avoid future health and pollution problems and expensive public solutions.

UPDATE ON HOUSING

Housing Count

According to 1970 and 1980 Census figures, Standish's housing stock grew by 1,170 units during the Seventies, an increase of 65%.

In 1970, the Census recorded a total of 1,786 dwelling units. Of these, 885 were occupied year-round units, 63 were vacant year-round units, and 838 were seasonal. At that time there was a population of 2967 in the year-round units (plus additional population of 155 in group quarters, such as dormitories), giving an average of 3.35 persons per household.

According to the 1980 Census, the total number of housing units in the Town now stands at 2,956. Of these 2,956 units,

- 1,936 are occupied, year-round units
- 146 are vacant, year-round units
- 874 are seasonal units

Three things are clear from these figures.

First, while Standish still has a very substantial seasonal population occupying 874 seasonal units, it is increasingly becoming a year-round community. The number of year-round homes more than doubled during the decade. Second, seasonal units had a net increase during the 1970's of just 36 units. This suggests that a significant part of the new population is housed in units that once were seasonal but have been converted to year-round use.

And, third, the average household size is shrinking, and is now at 3.07 persons per household. There are a growing number of single-person and two-person households, which now comprise over 43% of all Standish households. However, Standish's average household size is significantly larger than either the County's (2.65) or State's (2.75). This reflects the Town's relatively high birth rate, and also suggests that many in-migrants are coming with families. (See Table 9)

Housing Type

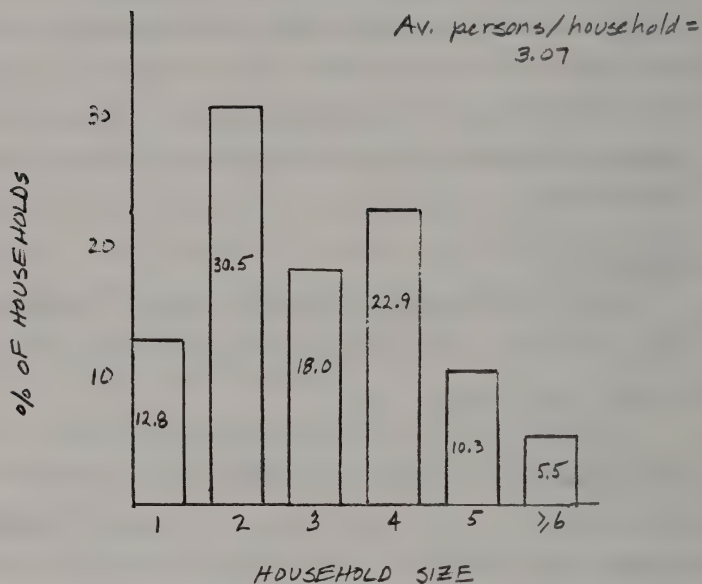

Single family homes dominate in Standish, numbering 1,744 year-round units and accounting for almost 84% of the year round housing stock.

In 1970 only 8% of the year-round housing units were in multifamily structures (two units or more). Few multi-family units were built during the decade, though what was built included a 12-unit facility for the elderly. The 1980 Census counted a total of 116 multi-family units, or less than 6% of the current year-round housing stock. On the whole, the Town's zoning ordinance discourages construction of multi-family units by requiring them to meet the same density requirements as single family units.

In 1970 there were 53 mobile homes, representing about 6% of the year-round housing stock. According to the 1980 Census there now are 222 mobile homes, almost 11% of the year-round housing stock. Current town regulations limit mobile home growth to ten units per year.

BY HOUSEHOLD SIZE

Table 10 illustrates residential building permits (new units only) issued between 1974 and 1979.

Housing Quality

A windshield survey of housing stock as part of the 1969 comprehensive plan produced estimates that 2% of all year-round units were "dilapidated" and about 7% "deteriorating", especially around Richville and north of Sèbago Lake village on Route 35. Overall, housing was considered sound.

The 1970 Census did not designate "substandard" housing, but did identify numbers of units without plumbing and kitchen facilities. At that time, 154 units, or 16% of the year-round units, lacked some or all plumbing, and 6% lacked complete kitchen facilities (sink, stove, and refrigerator).

By 1980 these figures had improved considerably. The 1980 Census found only 68 year-round units lacking complete plumbing facilities. This represented about 3% of all year-round units. The number of year-round units doubled from 1970-80, and these undoubtedly were built to contemporary code standards.

The median declared value of single family homes in Standish in 1980 was $44,700, according to the Census, about equal to the countywide median.

corporation is very cooperative.

Analysis and Conclusions

Standish's housing stock is generally sound, and with the new construction of the seventies the overall conditions improved. Perhaps as many as half of the Town's year-round homes are less than ten years old, and other units have been upgraded through conversion from seasonal to year-round use.

"Quality", of course, is a changing term. Today housing quality can be defined as validly in terms of insulation and energy efficiency as in terms of plumbing. At some point the Town may wish to survey its housing stock according to a variety of measures of quality, including health, safety, and energy efficiency.

While the overall housing quality is sound, housing choice is limited. The new construction of the 1970's was almost exclusively of single family detached homes (some of which were affordable to families of moderate income through Farmers' Home Administration financing). A combination of changing economics in the housing market and changing lifestyles and taste warrant an examination of Town policies toward other forms of housing.

Housing development in Standish has slowed drastically in the last two or three years. This is attributable in part to a zoning ordinance with strict density requirements and a subdivision ordinance that requires subdividers to build roads and other public facilities to certain public standards. But the slowdown is perhaps more attributable to high interest rates, cutbacks in federal interest subsidy programs, and the general housing slump nationwide. A healthy economy that included reasonable mortgage financing terms undoubtedly would -- and during the 1980's will -- stir continued new housing development in Standish.

UPDATE ON THE ECONOMIC BASE

Sources of Jobs and Income

The income of the Town's residents is earned primarily out of Town.

The Town does have an economic base of its own, as shown in the following table:

In addition, the village areas of Town support professional, service, and small retail enterprises. The summer trade -- fed by the presence of approximately 874 seasonal homes on Sebago Lake and the Town's other water bodies -- is an important part of the economic base.

The value of products manufactured in Standish, as well as wages paid workers involved in this manufacturing, showed healthy growth from 1976-79:

1976	$20,430,526	674	$6,793,859
1977	24,514,509	714	7,704,354

1979	32,468,206	743	10,127,888

Source: Census of Maine Manufacturers

This growth mirrored a pattern throughout the Portland area. (See Table 11)

Taxable retail sales in Standish also grew from 1975-1980, but not out of proportion with retail growth in the Sebago Lake region or the suburban Portland area. Standish stores account for about 1.5% of suburban Portland taxable sales and 8%-9% of Sebago Lake region taxable sales. (See Table 11) Standish has no major retail center, and, as affirmed in the Planning Board's community attitude survey, most households shop elsewhere for retail goods: Gorham and North Windham for groceries, Portland and South Portland for clothing and appliances.

Thus, the Standish economy -- and the economic well-being of its residents -- is tied to the larger region. The Planning Board survey shows that the Town's labor force works throughout the Portland and Sebago Lake areas.

This is of greatest importance in evaluating the future growth of Standish: jobs, like population, are no longer concentrated in the urban center. They have decentralized to Westbrook, Gorham, Windham, Standish, and other suburban and rural towns.

Nearly 7,400 jobs are offered by major employers within a drive of approximately 20 minutes from Standish village (See Table 12). These do not include retail jobs in centers such as North Windham, or, for the most part professional and service jobs, which probably would double the number. According to those responding to the Planning Board survey, 52% of the Town's job holders work within this radius, while 36% work in Portland or South Portland.

The significance to Standish of the decentralization of jobs is that households deciding to move to Standish do not necessarily sacrifice proximity to jobs or face high fuel and commuting costs. Indeed, they may choose to move to Standish to be closer to jobs -- or at least to be no further away while taking advantage of the Town's rural character.

Future Commercial/Industrial Growth

The prospect for large commercial and industrial growth within Standish's borders is speculative. Given the Town's population growth, plus the growth of the outlying communities of Buxton, Limington, Baldwin, and Sebago, the area may be able to support a small retail shopping center outside the territory of North Windham and Gorham.

Industrially, three nearby suburban communities have serviced industrial parkland available:

Other industrial lands with sewer, water, and other utilities are available in Portland and South Portland.

Without public sewerage, it will be difficult for Standish to compete for large industrial prospects.

There is always a chance, of course, that a sizeable industry that is a low water user, will choose Standish. However, commercial/industrial expansion will more likely come about through smaller cottage industries, resource-oriented industry, and professional and business services.

Several years ago, the Greater Portland Council of Governments projected that square footage devoted to trade, finance, insurance and real estate would grow by 33% over the next 20 years; personal, recreation and professional services by 68%; and manufacturing by 17% ("Sewerage Feasibility Study for Town of Standish", 1977).

Resource-oriented industry, such as farming and lumbering, is harder to measure. Agriculture appears to be declining, despite sizeable areas of "prime" soils for farming. On the other hand, several forest-oriented industries--paper and lumber--own large tracts of managed forest land in Standish, much of it under the tree growth tax law. In the past there have been several small gravel pit operations in the town as well.

Analysis and Conclusions

The major employment for residents of Standish will remain outside of Town. However, as job opportunities continue to decentralize out of the urban core, more and more jobs will be available within easy and affordable commuting distance of Standish. This will continue the Town's momentum of growth.

Within the Town's borders, the economic base will not stagnate. Standish and nearby rural/suburban communities are growing, and the demand for local, year-round retail and business services will grow with them. Most sizeable industries seeking to relocate or expand into the area will choose serviced industrial parks over Standish, but Standish should attract its share of resource-oriented and small "dry" (low water-using) industry.

UPDATE ON TRAFFIC

Traffic Counts

Time and resources were not available to analyze the Town's transportation facilities. However, updated traffic counts for the major roadways have been obtained from the Department of Transportation. The counts are as follows:

Analysis and Conclusions

Traffic has doubled and tripled on many of the roadways in Town since 1962. Route 25 remains the heaviest travelled arterial, with the highest count occurring between Standish village and Two Trails. However, dramatic growth also is evident on Route 35 from Standish village all the way to the Windham line (a reflection of the industrial growth near Shaw Mills Road, the residential growth at the White's Bridge area, and the retail activity in North Windham). The rising traffic count along Route 113 shows continued strong summer recreational activity on Sebago Lake. The counts along Route 25 west to the Manchester Road indicate that that growing residential area is a commuting community that relies on jobs and services to the east and to the north. Traffic in Steep Falls grew less than elsewhere in the Town.

UPDATE ON PUBLIC SERVICES

The 1969 Comprehensive Plan discussed the Town's public services at length and made a number of recommendations. Time and resources did not allow a thorough update of this information, a task the Planning Board and Selectmen may want to address in the future.

However, a review of the Town's budgetary trends and of two key services--fire protection and road maintenance--gives an idea of the affects of the Town's rapid growth on services.

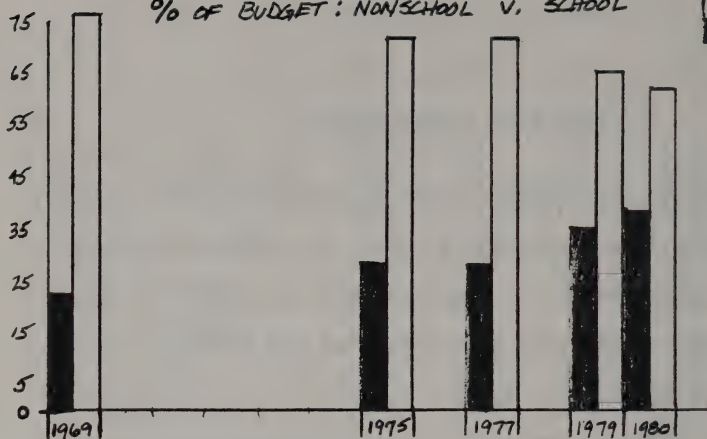

In general, as population has grown since 1969, the non-education side of the Town budget has advanced more rapidly than the education side. This suggests that the range of non-school public services, geared to a smaller community in the sixties, had to catch up to the growin community of the seventies.

As Table 13 shows, the non-school side of the budget, which accounted for 23% of the total Town budget in 1969, claimed 38% of the budget in 1980. Expenditures for non-school items grew by 335% from 1969 - 1980, while expenditures for education grew by 109%. The rate of inflation during this period was about 222%. Thus, while a large part of the increase in expenditures was due to inflation, a substantial part

% OF BUDGET: NONSCHOOL V. SCHOOL

% OF BUDGET

□ SCHOOL

apparently also was due to the upgrading of services and expanding them to meet the needs of a growing population. Several ~~key~~ services--fire and rescue, public works, police protection, and the town dump--which in 1969 took about 10% of the total budget now account for more than 19% of the total budget.

Despite these increases in expenditures, the actual impact on the local property tax has been smaller than one might expect in the face of the Town's rapid growth. While the total dollars raised from local property taxes grew between 1969 and 1980 by 146%, the average increase per year-round dwelling unit was only on the order of 38%.*

This situation apparently was not due to an expanding industrial base. In 1969, industrial properties accounted for almost 35% of total valuation; by 1980 this had dropped to about 18%. Evidently, then, the Town's growing residential base is, at least to date, paying for a substantial portion of the expanded public services it is demanding. However, drawing conclusions without thorough examination is risky. It may also be that town services haven't yet caught up with the recent growth, and that additional expenditures will be necessary in coming years to accommodate it. (Standish, compared with other Maine communities of 6,000 population, appears to have been quite frugal in its municipal allocations for services.)

Upgraded and/or expanded services are evident since 1969 in the Town's fire protection and road maintenance activities. Increased expenditures in these areas (as well as other municipal services) undoubtedly are due to a combination of (1) inflation, (2) upgrading of service, and (3) expansion to accommodate growth.

Standish is served by a volunteer fire department with approximately 120 volunteers (30 per company), a fire chief, an assistant chief (both paid part-time salaries) and four deputy chiefs. The department has four engine companies. It must provide protection to more than 1,100 additional residential structures than in 1969--units that are considerably more spread out than in 1969. The companies and their equipment are:

Engine 1: Sebago Lake village, a one-story structure built in 1956 with a current insured value of $57,000. Equipment includes:

1959 American La France pumper - 750 gpm - 300gallon ~~booster~~ tank - replacement cost of $100,000.

1976 Chevrolet tank truck and pumper - 1000 gallon tank - 250 gpm pump - replacement cost of $55,000.

Engine 2: Standish village, a one-story structure built in 1953 with a current insured value of $59,000. Equipment includes:

196⁷⁴ Ford ladder and pump - 500 gallons - 1000 gpm pump - replacement cost of $55,000.

1956 Chevrolet pumper - 500 gpm pump - 350 gallon booster - replacement cost of $45,000.

1954 Reo - 750 gallons - 250 gpm portable pump - replacement cost of $10,000.

Engine 3: Steep Falls village, a new one-story facility off Rt. 113 with a current insured value of $130,000. Equipment includes:

1967 American La France pumper - 1,500 gallons - 750 gpm - replacement cost of $85,000.

1980 Ford pumper - 1,000 gallons - 1,000 gpm pump - replacement cost of $66,000.

Engine 4: Rescue company located at Sebago Lake village.

Equipment includes:

1977 Dodge rescue unit - replacement cost of $25,000.

1981 Ford rescue unit - replacement cost of $37,000.

In addition to the new Steep Falls facility and several pieces of equipment purchased since 1969, the Town in 1977 established a central dispatch center at Town Hall used not only by fire and rescue service, but also for police services (the Town contracts with the Cumberland County Sheriff's Office), road commissioner, and dog control. The center, which replaces a Red Network Fire Alarm System, is manned by five full-time dispatchers.

In 1969 there were a total of 38 hydrants in the vicinity of Standish, Sebago Lake, and Steep Falls villages. In 1981 this had increased to 64 hydrants.

Partly as a result of these improvements, the Town's insurance rating in 1981 moved up from public protection class 8 to class 5, according to the rate classifications of the Insurance Services Office (ISO). ISO's ratings are the basis for the insurance rates established by many insurance companies. The improved rating means lower fire insurance costs for many property owners.

The Town's public road maintenance program also is affected by the residential growth. The road commissioner estimates that 80 public roadway miles are cared for in Standish, and increase of 10 - 12 miles since 1970.

The following equipment is owned by the Town:

- 1974 John Deere grader
- 2 highway v-box spreaders
- 1968 Gledhill hydraulic sander
- Highway spinner auger spreader
- Flink hydraulic spreader

The equipment is housed with the road commissioner.

Since the 1969 comprehensive plan was written the Town has adopted a subdivision ordinance that establishes standards for the construction of roadways dedicated to public ownership. This was an important step taken to avoid future maintenance problems that result from inadequate design.

Conclusions

At some time a thorough examination of Town services and how they have been affected by the rapid growth of the seventies is warranted.

At this point it appears that residential growth has not (at least yet) translated into undue burdens on the property tax. However, this may be because the long-term demands of the new growth haven't yet been felt.

What is clear, relative to impact of growth on the Town budget, is the need to encourage an efficient pattern of growth--a pattern that leaves growth as close to town services as possible. It is cheaper to allow growth to occur near the services than it is to extend the services to accommodate a sprawling pattern of growth.

ADDENDUM

A series of maps has been developed as part of this Update to the Comprehensive Plan, including:

--soils according to recommended lot sizes for dwellings using septic systems.

--watersheds and elevations.

--aquifer recharge areas and 100-year flood plains.

--traffic counts and growth areas.

--institutional ownership (State of Maine, Portland Water District, paper companies, etc.)

These maps are at a scale of one inch equals 1,500 feet. In some cases, the mapping will continue as time and resources allow the necessary research. The maps are available for review at Town Hall.

Also incorporated by reference in this Update are the results of the Standish Community Attitude Survey conducted by the Planning Board during 1981; and studies, reports, and maps prepared by the State of Maine or other professional agencies and referred to in the Update.

PART II
GROWTH POLICIES

1. NATURAL RESOURCES

Groundwaters

The sandy and other coarse soils that characterize much of Standish contain large amounts of high quality groundwater. The groundwater is the source of water supply for the great majority of Standish households. It also is geologically tied to the Town's ponds and streams, replenishing them in dry weather and assuring adequate water levels. The volume and quality of groundwater is, in turn, directly influenced by the way in which the land is used. Activities that discharge pollutants can seriously contaminate the groundwater. Activities that diminish the capacity of the soils to accept water can reduce water levels.

Policy no. 1 In areas of Standish identified by the Maine Bureau of Geology as productive groundwater areas, there should be no nonresidential use of the land that would involve the possible discharge or leaching of toxic, hazardous, or other polluting effluent to the groundwater. Commercial or industrial projects that would significantly reduce these recharge areas--through large-scale paving, for example--also should be avoided.

Policy no. 2 Areas identified as capable of producing over 50 gallons of water per minute should be zoned for low density residential use, and subsurface waste disposal systems strictly managed according to code.

Policy no. 3 In areas identified as capable of producing between 10 and 50 gallons of water per minute, medium-density residential development is acceptable, provided there is strict compliance with subsurface waste disposal laws and regulations.

Surface Waters

The surface waters of Standish play a critical role not only for the Town but for the entire region. One-third of Sebago Lake's shoreline, including the intakes for the Portland Water District's metropolitan water system, is in Standish. The Saco River is a source of recreation and water supply for communities from New Hampshire to the Atlantic Ocean. The shorelines of Sebago Lake, the Saco, Watchic Pond, and Bonny Eagle Pond are valuable parts of Standish's economic base, providing for nearly 900 seasonal homes and summer commerce. They also are areas of outstanding natural beauty.

The comprehensive plan recognizes the importance not only of these major water bodies, but also of the entire stream system that drains to them and directly affects their quality.

Because there is no public sewer system and little heavy industry in Standish, the principal sources of water pollution to guard against are so-called "nonpoint" sources. Nonpoint source pollutants do not run out of a pipe; rather they run off the ground with rainwater or leach through the soils. Thus, the appropriate water quality measures are those that control stormwater runoff, erosion, and septic system leachate. To be effectively controlled, nonpoint sources of pollution must be prevented before they become serious. Once they become serious problems, they are (because they are so diffuse and hard to identify) extremely expensive to correct. Among the nonpoint sources of pollution in Standish with the greatest potential for health and water quality problems are septic systems that serve converted seasonal dwellings. These dwellings frequently are on undersized lots and their septic systems substandard. Year-round use greatly increases the chance of malfunctions.

Policy no. 4 The water bodies of the Town should not be degraded below current water quality classifications, and policies nos. 5-8 are in support of this objective.

Policy no. 5 The following areas are considered to be particularly important to the pond, lake and stream environments, and therefore should be zoned as resource protection areas: (1) wetlands rated by the Dept. of Inland Fish and Wildlife as moderate-to-high value wildfowl areas; (2) 100-year flood plains as identified by the Federal Emergency Management Agency; (3) areas adjacent to water bodies having sustained slopes greater than 25 percent; and (4) other areas which the Town considers to be important to wildlife habitat or of special scenic value.

Policy no. 6 The quality and quantity of stormwater runoff from new development should be controlled through performance standards in site plan review and subdivision ordinances such that rates of runoff after development are not substantially greater than prior to development.

Policy no. 7 Changes in elevation or contour adjacent to any lake, pond or stream should be controlled through performance standards that protect against erosion, sedimentation, and changes in water flow.

Policy no. 8 Because the conversion of seasonal dwellings to year-around use poses great potential for septic system malfunctions, control of conversions pursuant to state law is critical. This comprehensive plan therefore supports vigorous enforcement of the appropriate state laws. However, because conversions are very difficult to identify, the enforcement effort must be accompanied by an educational program among lake residents and associations and cooperation with the building inspector.

Soils

The soils of Standish, because they are the principal source of water supply for the Town as well as the principal "sink" for wastewater, should be recognized for their potential influence on growth patterns. If the limits and opportunities posed by the different soils are understood and taken into account, the Town can grow efficiently and safely.

Policy no. 9 It is the policy of this comprehensive plan that, to the extent practical, the type and density of development in the Town should be appropriately matched to the capacities of the soils. To this end:

- (1) the zoning ordinance should recognize the varying capacities of the soils and direct the density of development accordingly; and
- (2) the subdivision ordinance, through its language and its administration, should encourage the location of development on those soils most capable of handling it, and encourage the preservation as open space of those soils least capable of handling it.

Solar Energy

State law formally recognizes the importance of the sun as a potential energy source in new developments. Title 30, Sec. 4961 of state law says: "The comprehensive plan may include planning techniques such as...zoning to protect access to direct sunlight for solar energy use." The Town also recognizes the potential for solar energy and other means of energy efficiency, and therefore adopts the following policy:

Policy no. 10 The Planning Board should explore and make recommendations for the inclusion in Town ordinances of development techniques that promote efficient use of energy, including but not limited to:

- (1) zoning and site plan review provisions that protect solar access;
- (2) the layout of subdivision roadways to promote solar orientation of house lots;
- (3) landscaping and other siting techniques to maximize solar gain and minimize heat loss.

2. UTILITIES

The publicly owned utility system in Standish consists of public water supply lines serving the villages of Sebago Lake, Standish, and Steep Falls; and an extensive network of arterial, collector and local roads. There is no public sewer system.

A community's utility system is a major shaper of town growth. The presence of utilities, with their ability to transport goods and services (water, waste disposal, electricity, automobiles, etc.) to and from elsewhere, "opens up" land to development. The absence of utilities means that development must rely on the capacities of nature to supply the needed services from the immediate surroundings. This typically restricts growth.

The Town's 1969 comprehensive plan recommended extensive new roadway and sewer construction, and eventual extension of the public water supply system. It also proposed directing the bulk of town development toward the areas to be served by the utilities. Subsequent studies and an inflationary economy lead to the conclusion that these extensive capital improvements are financially impractical. The Town's growth patterns therefor must, to a greater extent than suggested by the 1969 plan, take into account the capacities of the utility systems as they currently exist and of the natural surroundings.

Sewer and Water

Policy no. 11 This comprehensive plan recognizes that a public sewer system is not practical now or for the foreseeable future, and that a sound program of septic system management is less costly and equally effective environmentally. Therefore, development patterns must be related to the capacities of the soil to handle waste and to the availability of public water supply.

Policy no. 12 Soils permitting, the allowable density of development in areas served by public water supply should be significantly greater than in areas not served by public water supply.

Policy no. 13 To the extent practical, developers in the vicinity of the village areas should be encouraged and/or required to extend public water supply lines to their developments.

Roadways

Policy no. 14 In view of current day construction costs, major public roadway development projects for the purpose of directing growth cannot be afforded; however, given the great increases in traffic volume throughout the road network, the Town should carefully monitor, with the Dept. of Transportation, safety conditions at major intersections and along major roadways.

Policy no. 15 Because extension of the Town's road network will come about primarily through subdivisions, the following basic guidelines should be followed:

- (1) public standards should be adhered to in roadway construction (with provision for waivers by the Planning Board under appropriate circumstances);
- (2) subdivision roadways should be laid out in a manner as to not cut off or prohibit backland development; and
- (3) curb cuts and driveways entering the existing public roads should be limited by ordinance--for the sake of both public safety and of discouraging strip development, internal road systems to serve individual uses are to be preferred over curb cuts onto the existing roadway system.

- (4) private ways given winter care by the Town should, as they are more heavily used year-round, be brought up to state standards for gravel-based roads.

3. COMMERCIAL/INDUSTRIAL GROWTH

Four conditions set the stage for future commercial/industrial growth in Standish:

(1) as the Town's year-round population has grown, so has the demand for goods and services and the need for commercial activities to meet this demand;

(2) as industry and jobs have decentralized throughout the Greater Portland region, the opportunity for industrial growth in the outlying towns, including Standish, has been enhanced;

(3) the outstanding beauty of Standish's lakes and ponds continues to attract seasonal visitors, and with them comes a base for commercial activity; and

(4) the Town's extensive woodlands plus soils conducive to agriculture are being intruded upon to some extent by suburban-type development, but the principal influences on these resource-based industries are economic. As forest products (paper, lumber, fuel wood) have become more in demand, substantial tracts of woodland have been placed under the tree growth tax laws and managed accordingly. On the other hand, as the economics of agriculture have deteriorated, fewer tracts, even those with prime soils, are farmed.

Policy no. 16 Extension of the Town's village and/or business commercial zone is warranted to accommodate local retail, personal service, business service, and similar activities .

Policy no. 17 The current industrial zones north of Standish village and at Steep Falls should be supplemented by an industrial zone incorporating a rail location, provided that an area reasonably free of environmental constraints can be located.

Policy no. 18 It is the policy of the Town to support forest- and farm-related enterprise; however, with the availability of preferential tax laws for woodland and farmland owners who wish to take advantage of them, and feel it economic to do so, it is not believed that special zoning designations are necessary at this time.

Policy no. 19 The commerce stimulated by the seasonal population is recognized as an important part of the Town's (and region's) economy, and the preservation of water quality through measures previously discussed in this plan is justified for economic as well as environmental reasons.

Policy no. 20 With the growth of Standish as a year-around residential community, the zoning ordinance through its district requirements should balance the need for industrial activity (such as commercial wood processing) in rural districts against the need to protect residents from nuisance conditions.

4. HOUSING AND RESIDENTIAL GROWTH

The Town must seek a balance in its pattern of growth. On the one hand, density must be limited to avoid overtaxing the soil's capacity to safely handle waste. On the other hand, if the prescribed density is so low that it encourages a sprawling pattern of development along the Town's roadways, the delivery of public services--road maintenance, snowplowing, fire and police protection, school bus transportation, etc.--will become increasingly expensive per housing unit. Further, strip development feeds on itself: as it blocks off backlands from future development, it forces the development to continue along the roadways.

In general, the high village densities advocated in the 1969 comprehensive plan are not feasible without the public sewerage and extensive new roadway construction proposed in that plan. However, the concept of efficient, village-oriented growth still has merit. The policy embodied in this update of the comprehensive plan differs from the 1969 plan in degree rather than in kind.

Policy no. 21 The Town should, through its zoning and subdivision ordinances, pursue an efficient pattern of growth that will:

- ° take into account the capacities of varying soils to handle waste;
- ° take into account the availability of public water supply and the proximity of other public services;

- ° tend to be village-oriented;
- ° range from resource protection zones in highly sensitive environmental areas, to low rural-type density in areas distant from town services and/or limited by environment, to substantially higher densities in areas close to public services and on acceptable soils.

The concept of efficient development extends to individual tracts as well as to the Town as a whole. It is after all the series of individual developments that adds up to the total development pattern of the Town. It is not necessarily logical to consider all parts of the tract as being equally good for development: some parts of the tract will be suitable, other parts unsuitable to development. It is through subdivision design feasible to direct development in a way that best fits with the tract's natural assets. This frequently is preferable to laying a grid of uniform lots over a tract of land regardless of the land's suitability for development. Clustering housing on the better parts of the land and preserving the less favorable parts as open space also can be less costly. Even in a situation such as Standish's, where there are no public sewers or public storm drains, site development costs for a clustered housing project are on the order of 25% less than for a conventionally laid out subdivision (source: "Cost Effective Site Planning for Single Family Development," National Home Builders Association, 1976).

Policy no. 22 It is the policy of this comprehensive plan that the use of zoning ordinance provisions for innovative land development be fully encouraged, and that obstacles to their full use be removed.

Standish is a community of single family detached homes. This form of housing was the preferred form for the majority of households living in Standish and for those moving into the Town during the Seventies. This is not expected to change in the Eighties.

However, in catering to the single family detached home, the choice of other forms of housing may be unduly limited. During the Eighties, a certain segment of the market will be seeking less costly, more efficient and more maintenance-free residential living. This is evident throughout the Greater Portland region, and is reflected in Standish by these factors:

(1) smaller family size: the average household size in 1980 was about three, down from three-and-a-third in 1970. Forty-three percent of all households in the Town are one- or two-member households rather than families of three or more. These households frequently seek an alternative to large single family homes.

(2) more efficient use of land: the per unit cost of land and associated land preparation is less for single family attached and multifamily units. With single family detached units financially out of reach of many moderate and middle income families, per unit cost is an important consideration.

(3) energy efficiency: common wall construction and efficient use of utilities and services in attached and multifamily construction save energy over single family developments (as much as 30%, according to some estimates).

(4) supplemental income: where large single family homes with high heating and maintenance costs can be converted into two-family structures, the homeowner gains a source of supplemental income that allows him or her to remain in the home.

For these reasons the following policies are recommended:

Policy no. 23 The zoning ordinance should explicitly provide for the development of single family attached housing (whether for use as condominiums or otherwise) in one or more of its nonrural residential districts. This provision should set forth reasonable density and design standards.

Policy no. 24 The zoning ordinance should allow the conversion of single family homes to two-family use by special exception in nonrural residential zones and according to reasonable density requirements.

Policy no. 25 Multifamily dwellings should continue to be permitted by special exception in certain residential zones, but where soil conditions permit, the allowable density should be increased to make construction feasible.

The question of "manufactured housing"--mobile homes and modular homes--currently is being examined by the state government to determine whether towns are unduly discriminating against this form of housing, whether towns will voluntarily ease these restrictions, and whether state legislation in this area is required. In particular, the state believes that mobile and modular homes built since 1974 have been constructed according to strict building codes and have improved their aesthetic qualities such that they no longer should be herded away into mobile home parks or prohibited entirely.

Standish's ordinances in this regard are less restrictive than many others. Modular housing is treated like other single family homes; mobile homes are limited to ten new units per year, but are permitted on single family house lots by special exception, as well as in mobile home parks. During the 1970's the number of mobile homes in Standish quadrupled.

Policy no. 26 This comprehensive plan recognizes that modular housing and mobile homes meet the needs of many families and that provision should be made for their location in the Town. However, because many mobile homes do differ in appearance and value and potentially may detract from surrounding property values, especially if located in subdivisions of more valuable homes, special exception review is warranted (with "location and character" one standard of judgment).

PART III
IMPLEMENTING MEASURES

INTRODUCTION

The measures presented in Part III of the Update of the Comprehensive Plan are divided into two chapters.

Chapter 1 presents amendments to the zoning ordinance that are meant to make sure the ordinance is on sound legal footing. Over the last two years, two related legal questions have been raised about Standish's zoning ordinance:

(1) What is the "officially adopted zoning map," as required by state law; and

(2) What provisions govern shoreland areas within the town.

The ordinance amendments presented in Chapter 1 clear up these questions. These amendments do not alter the substance of the zoning ordinance. Nor do they change the boundaries of zoning districts from the previous zoning map, except insofar as there are conflicts between old shoreland zoning districts and the town's regular zoning districts. In general, the old shoreland zoning districts known as "Limited Residential" and "General Development" have been merged into the town's regular zoning districts. The areas of town previously mapped as Resource Protection will, for the most part, remain in tact pending further review by the Planning Board.

Several other "housekeeping" amendments are included in Chapter 1.

Chapter 2 of this Part III will be written by the Planning Board during 1982. The ordinances to be included in Chapter 2 will be those that the Board believes are necessary and desirable to implement the Comprehensive Plan. Because the provisions will deal with how the town should grow in coming years, they will require debate, discussion, and public hearings before they are finally written. The Board's goal is to place whatever changes are agreed upon before Town Meeting in March 1983.

1 Zoning Districts

2.17 "S" - Shoreland Zone

Delete Section 2.17 in its entirety and replace it with the following new Section 2.17:

2.17 "RP" - Resource Protection

These areas are of particular importance to the environments of the Town's streams, lakes, and ponds. Their development would be adverse to water quality, productive habitat, biotic systems, and scenic beauty. At a minimum these areas shall include the following lands that occur within 250 feet of the normal high water marks of water bodies subject to the Maine Mandatory Shoreland Zoning Controls Act: (1) wetlands rated by the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife as moderate-to-high value waterfowl areas; (2) 100-year floodplains as identified by the most recent flood hazard areas map; and (3) lands having sustained slopes greater than 25 percent. These areas may also include such other lands as the Town considers vital to the protection of the natural environment. Areas meeting the criteria described in (1) through (3) shall be considered to be within the Resource Protection District as if fully mapped, even if they do not actually appear as such on the official zoning map. Where uncertainty exists as to whether the land meets the criteria described in (1) through (3), the Code Enforcement Officer may require the applicant proposing to use the land to submit documentation, prepared by a professional engineer or registered land surveyor or other qualified person, sufficient for the Code Enforcement Officer to make a judgment.

Permitted Uses

1. The harvesting of wild crops such as marsh hay, ferns, moss, wild rice, berries, tree fruits and tree seeds.
2. Hunting, fishing, and trapping.
3. Wildlife management.
4. Hiking trails, motorized vehicle traffic on roads and trails, snowmobiling, nature trails, and bridge paths.

Special Exceptions

1. Public facilities for educational, scientific, or nature interpretation purposes, provided they are nonresidential and designed for low-intensity use.
2. Recreational uses involving minimal structural development such as golf courses, tennis courts, playing fields and similar uses where water quality would not be adversely

Section 3:

GENERAL-PROVISIONS
GENERAL STANDARDS OF PERFORMANCE

The following provisions shall apply to all districts ~~except where-listed~~ unless otherwise specified.

(Sections 3.1 through 3.9 to remain unchanged.)

~~5-0~~ 3.11 Alternate Soils Test Pit

(Provision remains unchanged.)

3.12 Shoreland Areas

The following standards are pursuant to Maine Revised Statutes, Title 12, Section 4811, Shoreland Areas, and shall apply to areas within 250 feet of the normal high water mark of the following water bodies: Adams Pond, Bonny Eagle Pond, Duck Pond, Gorham Pond, Otter Pond no. 2, Rich Mill Pond, Watchic Pond, Little Watchic Pond, Sebago Lake, and other ponds with a surface area in excess of 10 acres as identified by the Maine State Planning Office:

5. Erosion and Sedimentation Control

Filling, grading, lagooning, dredging, earth-moving activities, and other land use activities shall be conducted in such manner to prevent to the maximum extent possible erosion and sedimentation of surface waters. To this end, all construction shall be accomplished in conformance with the erosion prevention provisions of "Environmental Quality Handbook Erosion Control," published by the Maine Soil and Water Conservation Commission. Filling or other earth-moving activity of more than ten (10) cubic yards shall require (a) site plan approval from the Planning Board if within a Resource Protection zone, or (b) a permit from the Code Enforcement Officer if elsewhere within the shoreland area.

REPORT OF THE PLANNING BOARD

During the year ending December 31, 1982 the Planning Board held 12 regular meetings (the first non-holiday Monday of each month), and 3 public hearings.

The Land Use Ordinances of the Town of Standish detailing the Zoning Ordinance, the Site Plan Review Ordinance, the Street Ordinance and the Subdivision Regulations are now available in printed form incorporating all amendments approved at the 1982 Town Meeting. These Ordinances are available from the Code Enforcement Officer at a charge of $6.50 plus mailing costs, if necessary.

RECREATION COMMITTEE REPORT 1982

The Standish Recreation Program, once designed as a summer program has grown into a year round activity sponsoring nine different activities in addition to the six week summer program and the baseball and softball leagues.

A special thank you to every citizen of our community for the support you have given to the youth of Standish. The many hours spent by numerous volunteer coaches, assistant coaches, and officials in baseball, softball and soccer etc. have given us one of the outstanding year round programs in the state for a community of our size.

The spring of the year proved the most hectic as baseball and softball began in April. Three hundred and seventy boys and girls participated on 28 different teams in seven different leagues. Every field in Standish was played on by some team each day of the week except Sunday. The addition of the badly needed field on Route 25 is anxiously awaited. The National Guard has set early spring of '83 as a completion date with use of the field to begin in '84.

The addition of the T-Ball leagues of girls and boys created a needed beginning and introduction to baseball and softball for over sixty youngsters.

The summer recreation program had it largest enrollment, with over 400 registered. Daily activities included arts and crafts, board games, ping pong, supervised play, varied sports activities, along with swimming. Special clinics were held in basketball, tennis, soccer and field hockey. Standish again was a member team of the AAU Junior Olympic track and field program with twenty-four youngsters qualifying for the state meet at Scarborough in August.

Over 200 youngsters went on the annual trip to Funtown while 180 attended an outing to the Aquaboggan in Saco.

The Pee Wee program for K-1 children had an enrollment of 55, an increase of 18 over last year. The Pee Wee program ran four days a week from 9-12 a.m. Children participated in arts and crafts, lead-up games, and learn to develop their individual physical and emotional skills.

The Recreation Committee meets the second Wednesday of each month at 7 p.m. at the Standish Municipal Building. All citizens are invited to attend these opened meetings.

Below you will find a table of all activities sponsored by the Standish Recreation Committee.

REPORT OF STEEP FALLS LIBRARY

The staff and volunteers of Steep Falls Library thank the voters of Standish for continued support of this library. The money, raised by the town, was spent for books as specified in the warrant.

We added a new set of World Book Encyclopedias to the Children's Room reference shelves, updating to 1982 and retiring the twenty year old set. We purchased 212 books, including the encyclopedias. And we were given 312 books, all of which were most welcome and we do thank the donors. We always like to have books given to us.

Also, we want the townspeople to be aware that the library is no longer a book depository only. It is a reference, research and service center as well. And what we do not have, we can obtain through the Interlibrary Loan at the Portland Public Library. The copier, purchased jointly by the Steep Falls Firemen and the Trustees of the library, is used almost every day the library is open—1989 times in 1982. This is a valuable service to the community and well received.

The Children's Room was a bee-hive of activity all year. Here all school age youngsters come to work, study and look up projects. We have begun to have contact with the school librarians too. Eva Plympton, Children's Librarian, reports that 4,512 youngsters, ages 3-15 years, used the room. During this time she loaned 5,875 books and magazines, and spent countless hours looking up references. A total of 187 children from the Standish Recreation Program came every Monday for six weeks of movies and stories. On Wednesdays of the same period, a total of 404 youngsters from the YMCA Camp at Otter Pond, also enjoyed the movies and stories here. And the first Saturday of each month all year long we have movies for the children at 1:30 p.m. Beginning each September, Ruth Blake, one of our staff, runs the Wee-Folk Story Hour for preschoolers on Wednesday mornings at 10 a.m. Kathie Rochon, a talented musician, assists her with the songs and instruments. The movies, stories, music and crafts are popular and we average about 20 little ones each week. We do not continue this program through the cold winter months, but begin again in April and finish in June as the school year ends.

In the Adult Room, 3,144 people patronized the library, taking out 7,962 books, magazines, pamphlets, puzzles, patterns, etc. It is a busy and interesting room. In fact we now have seven volunteers who are trianed or are being trained for various work. Ruth Chaplin, the retired librarian, is invaluable in summer, Mildred Marstan and Maria Murphy work on the Vertical File. Margaret Dutil does all the art and poster work. Marilyn Jackson is learning the stacks, Barbara Rose the desk, and both the latter will be trained in Book Repair by Ruth Blake. We are most grateful for their time and efforts.

For three months we had a large exhibit of Japanese Artifacts, loaned by one of the patrons of the library. In October, an exhibit of silk screening birds was here from the Art Department of the University of Maine in Orono. November, from the same department, we had an exhibit of reproductions of the School of French Impressionists. Both were very good. At present, we have an exhibit of woodcarvings, and the doll collection which preceded it was well liked and the response was good.

In September, at the instigation of Valerie Bailey and Janet Burnell, working with Ruth Blake, we had our first book and bake sale. It was most successful and, hopefully, can become the nucleus of a Friends Group for the library. We can use more shelf space and there is always a need in the Children's Room. The same group had a second Holiday Bake sale in December in conjunction with our first Open House. This was a fun time and we served hot spiced cider, coffee and goodies. Some of the Girl Scouts were here to help serve. It was a good beginning to a new tradition we plan to continue.

We hope you continue to patronize the library and take advantage of its services. For those who have never been in, do come and see what a beautiful library your taxes are supporting. The building, itself, is a treasure of woodcarving craftsmanship we seldom see now. Come, make our acquaintance, browse and let us help you. Our hours are Mondays and Wednesdays - 2 p.m. - 8 p.m; Saturdays - 1 p.m. - 6 p.m.

Librarian

SACO RIVER CORRIDOR COMMISSION REPORT

The Saco River Corridor Commission administers the Saco River Corridor Act which regulates land use within 500 to 1,000 feet of the Saco, Ossipee and Little Ossipee Rivers. The Commission is made up of representatives of the 20 communities bordering the 3 rivers, and each town within the Corridor is represented by one regular and one alternate member appointed by the Selectmen or Mayor. The Commission meets once a month, generally on the fourth Wednesday, to consider applications for permits and to discuss other matters which relate to the Saco River Corridor region. Standish's regular Commission member is Karen Z. Atkinson. Mrs. Atkinson also served this year as a member of the Commission's Finance Committee.

One of the Commission's major functions is the consideration of permit applications for building construction or other activities requiring a permit. During the past year (January 1, 1982, through December 31, 1982), the Commission considered a total of 36 applications for permits or variances. It also considered 16 amendments to permits previously granted and held 3 public hearings. Of the permit applications and amendments considered by the Commission this year, two were for activities within the Town of Standish.

Any Standish residents interested in obtaining additional information about the Commission or the effect of the Saco River Corridor Act on their land should feel free to call either of the Standish representatives to the Commission or Margaret Roy, the Executive Director, who may be contacted at the Commission office in Cornish (Telephone 625-8123).

Respectfully submitted,
KAREN Z. ATKINSON

ANIMAL CONTROL OFFICER'S REPORT FOR 1982

We have taken care of the usual number of calls this year—stray dogs and cats, dog bite cases, animals hit by cars, dogs and cats caught in fox traps, relocated 15 skunks. Nine horses crossed the Saco River and had to be trucked back by the owner.

I often think of the number of children who cry themselves to sleep at night because their pets were killed or lost. If more dogs were licensed, they could be easily returned by the Animal Control Officer. Dogs are not easily identified any other way. 85 dogs were taken to the Westbrook Animal Shelter.

Mary Lou Coolbroth was appointed by the Selectmen to be the second Animal Control Officer, due to the fact that the job requires 24 hours, 7 days a week.

If owners of animals took proper care of their pets, the price of animal control could be reduced.

All calls must now go through the Fire Alarm Dispatchers' office—642-4343.

Respectfully submitted,
ERNEST C. GREENLAW

REPORT OF CUMBERLAND COUNTY SHERIFF

I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to the Selectmen and the citizens of Standish for their cooperation in matters concerning the Police Services Contract. The law enforcement contract in Standish has proven to be very successful this past year. This was due to the harmony at the administrative level and the expertise of professional personnel working in the field.

In addition to the services of the contract deputies, we are pleased to have been able to continue supportive services to the Town. We have provided night patrol, coverage for sick leave and vacation time, as well as trained investigators, supervisory personnel, dispatchers, crime analysis and the availability of our records division.

Statistical information of value is reflected in the break-down of activities for the year 1982. We enclose a copy of this information.

REPORT OF THE STANDISH FIRE DEPARTMENT

Last year the Standish Dispatch Office handled 5,886 calls by phone on the business line, 408 calls for Rescue, 143 Fire Department calls, 931 Police, 348 Animal Control Officer information calls, and handled 11,731 radio transmissions.

1982 has been a year of many accomplishments in the Fire Department. A major goal was the updating and refurbishing of Tank 3, a 1967 Tanker-Pumper. This should extend its useful life until 1992. This truck was also fitted with a concept new to Standish, called a Dump Tank system. This allows the truck to unload its water quicker. With your cooperation we plan to refit Tank 1, a 1000 gallon Tanker with this system in 1983.

The 1956 Pumper, Engine 2, which is now called Engine 5, was moved to Frye Island and a 1955 Ford Pumper was purchased to replace the burned Fire Truck until a new truck is purchased. By buying this truck we were also able to replace some of the equipment lost in the fire with the truck on Frye Island.

Training also has been a major goal this year. With a Training budget we were able to send many of our members to the Cumberland County Fire Attack School held at S.M.V.T.I. last May. Also many of our members paid their own way to go to the York County Fire Attack School in Sanford, and the Lakes Region Fire Attack School in Laconia, New Hampshire. This year we will also have a department wide monthly training program.

The Fire Department will also be starting an Annual Open House to help make our citizens more aware of our goals. This year it will be during Fire Prevention Week in October.

Any persons with questions about your Fire Department should contact the Chief or Assistant Chief through the Dispatch Office, 642-4343.

ARTHUR RILEY, JR., Asst. Chief

REPORT OF CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Board of Selectmen
Town of Standish
Standish, Maine

We have examined the financial statements of the various funds and general long-term debt group of accounts of the Town of Standish for the years ended December 31, 1982 and 1981, as listed in the table of contents. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and, accordingly, included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

As is the usual practice of Municipalities in the State of Maine, the Town has not maintained a record of its general fixed assets and, accordingly, a statement of general fixed assets, required by generally accepted accounting principles, is not included in the financial report.

In our opinion, the financial statements listed in the aforementioned table of contents present fairly the financial position of such funds and the general long-term debt group of accounts of the Town of Standish at December 31, 1982 and 1981, and the results of operations of such funds for the years then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a consistent basis.

The accompanying supplemental schedules and related information presented as Schedules 1 through 6 are not necessary for a fair presentation of the financial statements, but are presented as additional analytical data. This information has been subjected to the tests and other auditing procedures applied in the examination of the financial statements mentioned above and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

TOWN OF STANDISH, MAINE
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
DECEMBER 31, 1982

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

The Town of Standish, Maine currently operates under a Town Meeting - Selectmen form of Government.

The accounting policies of the Town conform to generally accepted accounting principles as applicable to state and local governmental units. The following is a summary of the more significant policies.

Basis of Presentation:

The accounts of the Town are organized on the basis of funds and account groups, each of which is considered a separate accounting entity. The operations of each fund are accounted for by providing a separate set of self-balancing accounts which comprise its assets, liabilities, fund equities, revenues and expenditures. The various funds, which are segregated for the purpose of carrying on specific activities or attaining certain objectives in accordance with special regulations, restrictions or limitations, are grouped by type in the financial statements.

Basis of Accounting:

Governmental fund revenues and expenditures are recognized on the modified accrual basis. Revenues are recognized in the accounting period in which they become available and measurable. In the general fund, real estate and personal property tax levies are recorded as revenue in amounts equal to total taxes levied. Estimated losses for uncollectible accounts and abatements are recorded in the overlay account as expenditures. Expenditures for governmental fund types are recognized in the accounting period in which the fund liability is incurred, if measurable, except for unmatured interest on generally long-term debt and accumulated sick and annual leave pay, which are recognized when paid.

All other funds included in these financial statements are maintained and reported on the accrual basis.

DECEMBER 31, 1982

NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF ACCOUNTING POLICIES (Continued):

Inventories of Supplies:

Inventories of supplies are considered to be expenditures at the time of purchase and are not included in the general fund balance sheet.

Fixed Assets:

Fixed assets are not capitalized in the accounting records when acquired. Funds used to acquire fixed assets are accounted for as expenditures in the year payments are made.

NOTE 2 - SUPPLEMENTAL APPROPRIATIONS AND OVER-EXPENDITURES:

At various times during the year, the Town voted supplemental appropriations totaling $9,230. for various purposes which are reflected as the excess of budgeted expenditures and other uses over budgeted revenues and other sources as per Exhibit B-2.

During the year, the Town overexpended certain budgeted accounts, which will be raised through taxation in 1983.

NOTE 3 - BUDGETS:

General Fund:

The Town is currently preparing budgets under a net budgeting concept which does not estimate total revenues of the Town.

NOTE 5 - CONTINGENCIES:

The Portland Water District has sought a tax abatement which would, if granted, have the effect of reducing the tax owed to the Town by approximately $99,000. The Standish tax assessors have refused to grant the abatement and the Portland Water District has appealed the matter to the County Commissioners for their review. Legal counsel for the Town expects that negotiations may resolve the matter, but there is no certainty. If the matter cannot be settled by negotiations, County Commissioners will hear the abatement request and make a determination as to what amount, if any, of the 1982 real estate taxes assessed against the District should be reduced. A hearing has been scheduled for February 23, 1983. The District has paid the Town an amount equal to the tax burden based on the value of their land, in their opinion, leaving approximately $99,000. unpaid as of December 31, 1982.
